OHIO ELECTION BOOSTS TAFT'S STOCK

Long, Chatlain Win Nominations for Sheriff; Selby, Friday Top GOP Commissioners' Race

Former Officials Stage Comebacks

Two former Richland county officials staged comebacks in yesterday's primary voting. Former Sheriff E. P. Long won the Democratic nomination for sheriff and John C. Friday, ex-county commissioner, took one of the two Republican nominations for commissioner.

The second GOP commissioner nominee is John W. Selby, seeking his second term.

In the only county Democratic contest, Long topped his closest opponent, Deputy Sheriff Harold L. Marvin, by 558 votes in a three-way race.

Long received 2,552 votes to Marvin's 1,994 and 445 for Thomas J. Campbell.

Long's Republican opponent for sheriff in November will be C. M. Chatlain, Madison township trustee. Chatlain, who had the off-the-record backing of the county GOP organization, won easily over three other candidates.

The GOP sheriff vote was: Chatlain, 2,431; Charles J. Pittenger, 1,289; James T. Little, 459; Leouard J. Parrella, 136.

Selby led the spirited GOP commissioner race, piling up 3,054 votes to Friday's 2,556 and 1,626 for Charles H. Hebel, former Mansfield street commissioner.

The Democrats nominated Guy Stewart of Lucas and Fred W. Dill, Bellville, for county commissioner without opposition. Stewart, who is seeking re-election as commissioner, polled 3,349 votes to Dill's 2,308.

LUTZ VS. LUTZ

Two Lutzes will oppose each other for county prosecutor in November. Incumbent Theodore Lutz, Republican, and Harold Lutz, Democrat, former prosecutor, won their party nominations without opposition. Theodore Lutz received 3,963 votes and Harold Lutz got 3,868 votes.

Neil S. Robinson, Republican, former county representative to the general assembly, and C. L. Mitchell, ex-Democratic county commissioner, will be the opponents in the fall for the county representative post. Robinson's vote was 3,776 to Mitchell's 3,-310. Neither had primary opposition.

Vying for the county clerk of courts post in the fall will be Incumbent Howard Wenning, Democrat, and Edward F. Friday, Republican. The primary yesterday gave Wenning 3,617 votes to 2,556 for Friday.

The county recorder race in the fall will pit D. D. Orewiler, Democratic incumbent, against H. R. Barnes, Republican. Their primary votes were: Orewiler, 3,715; Barnes, 3,480.

JUDGES UNOPPOSED

Both county judges apparently will have clear sailing in the fall. Neither Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch nor Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer, Republicans, will have a Democratic opponent. Both judges seek re-election. Judge Kalbfleisch got 3,980 votes yesterday and Judge Cramer received 3,905.

Rail Dispute Now In Lap Of Truman

President Will Try To Prevent Strike

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The White House took over the critical railroad wage dispute today after the collapse of other government attempts to avert the nationwide strike set for 6 a. m., Tuesday, May 11.

President Truman, it was learned, has turned the dispute over to his chief labor adviser and assistant, John R. Steelman, with orders to spare no effort to find a strikeless settlement.

Justice department lawyers believed the government could seize the railroads, if necessary, under an old World War I law but sources close to the White House said seizure would be "only a last resort."

Steelman was expected to move speedily to hold separate talks with high officials of the railroads and the three unions involved to find a basis for settling their dispute over wages and working rules.

Judge Frank P. Douglass, chairman of the National Mediation board, will report to Steelman today on the collapse of the negotiations in Chicago yesterday.

Mr. Truman personally was said to have no "present" plan to call either the unions or the railroads to the White House for conferences.

The President, according to informed quarters, will rely "for at least three or four days" on Steelman's mediations efforts.

The mediation board's failure to end the dispute brought suggestions in Congress for revision of the railway labor disputes act, under which the board is set up, and for extension of the Taft-Hartley Labor Control act to the railroads.

Oleo Gains Victory

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Backers of the oleo tax repeal bill scored a victory today as the Senate voted 48 to 30 to send the House-passed measure to the Senate finance committee.

WINNERS—Four men won contested nominations in Richland county races Tuesday. Two of them are "Johns"—John C. Friday and John Selby, incumbent, both Republicans. They are shown at right checking election returns in the courthouse last night while another "John," John Whitcomb, county purchase and payment clerk, looks on. At top left is C. M. Chatlain, Republican nominee for sheriff, and at bottom left is E. P. Long, Democratic nominee for sheriff. All other nominees won without challenge.

Vote Hits 10,079

By GEORGE COMINOS

The primary vote yesterday far surpassed the total cast four years ago, but fell short of the 1940 primary when 12,000 voters went to the polls.

Actually, yesterday's turnout of 10,079 voters was surprisingly large, most political observers being of the opinion the total vote would be only 5,000 or 6,000.

When board officials got through with their calculations at 5 a. m. today, they found that 5,182 Democrats and 4,897 Republicans went to the polls. In the 1944 primary, only 7,172 voted.

The first official returns arrived at the election board office about 9 p. m. They came from Mansfield 1-F. Results then came in steadily until 2:05 a. m. when Butler township's figures filled the last vacant column.

By that hour and for most of the next three hours, the noise of four adding machines drowned out most other sounds.

STRAIN TELLS

By that hour, too, the strain of the tallying commenced to tell on election board members. Charles Innes, Earl A. McFarland and Mrs. Marie Bell, and their extra workers, I. S. Eller, Ralph LeMunyon, John Leppo, Barney Banks, Mrs. Aneita Davidson and Mrs. Pearl Scott.

Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler and Walter Underwood, deputy clerk, kept busy delivering the vote sheets to the calculators. They then had the job of putting away the supplies.

The busy monotony was broken occasionally when sandwiches and coffee were brought in.

As usual there were a good many interested spectators. Among them were city officials who had just finished a council meeting and candidates. Even some without primary opposition showed up to watch interestedly.

2 Escape As Plane Crashes

WILLARD — Two men escaped injury last night when they bailed out of their plane after they lost their way in a rain storm and ran out of gas. The plane crashed in a wheat field five miles southwest of Willard.

The pilot, Lt. P. L. Schaun, and Sgt. B. R. Benson were on a cross-country flight from Tinker Field, Okla., to an eastern destination. The accident occurred at 9:35 p. m.

They lost their way in the fog over Willard and were forced to bail out from 5,000 feet, when the gas tanks in their AT-6 training plane ran dry.

FCC Blasted In Congress Speech

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Hebert (D-La) told the House today that the communications commission has granted five radio station permits to Edward Lamb of Toledo, O., whom Hebert described as "a man saturated and drenched in communist writings, associations and affiliations."

Hebert said the commission granted these permits in March to Lamb, although S. A. Horvitz, a witness at commission hearings, said he is convinced Lamb is a communist.

Horvitz is publisher of the Mansfield News-Journal and Lorain Journal

Hebert termed the commission procedure a "fantastic" Alice In Wonderland story, "almost beyond the realm of understanding."

He showed the House the commission orders granting the following licenses in the period March 15 through March 31 this year:

One permit for an FM broadcasting station at Springfield, O., issued to the Unity corporation of Springfield

A similar FM permit to Unity corporation at Mansfield

Two television permits, one to the Dispatch, Inc., Erie Pa., and the other to Picture Waves, Inc., Columbus, O.

Another FM permit to the Unity corporation, Inc., of Erie.

Hebert said Lamb and his wife, Prudence, of Perrysburg, O., control 62 per cent of the stock of Unity Corporation, Inc. Lamb also owns 1,000 of a total of 1,600 shares in Dispatch, Inc.,

[illegible] said, and his wife owns [illegible] and his wife also own [illegible] stock than anybody else in Picture Waves, Inc., Hebert said.

Bulletin

CLEVELAND—(AP)—John J. (Jack) Singleton, former Mansfielder whose fabulous sales of almost new cars at apparent losses attracted national attention, was sentenced to 10 to 70 years in Ohio penitentiary today.

A jury found Singleton guilty of 14 counts of larceny by trick at the conclusion of his long trial 10 days ago. In passing sentence today, Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick declared:

"You are a swindler, an ex-convict and were on probation. You were selling gold bricks."

Lausche Wins In A Walk

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio Democrats, ignoring the advice of the majority of their party leaders, nominated Frank J. Lausche for governor yesterday.

The former governor's appeal for support from rank-and-file party members paid off with an overwhelming victory over Ray T. Miller, who was backed generally by county Democratic bosses.

Lausche, now reestablished as the undisputed chieftain of Ohio Democrats after his defeat as governor two years ago, will lead his party against a Republican ticket headed by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert in the Nov. 2 election.

Governor Herbert, elected in 1946 by a margin of 40,553 votes over Lausche, easily won renomination for a second two-year term yesterday.

FREQUENTLY SNUBBED

Lausche, who was snubbed frequently by Democratic county chairmen when he campaigned against what he called "commercial politicians" in his party, found balm for his wounds in the primary election returns.

He was running ahead of Miller, former mayor of Cleveland and Cuyahoga county Democratic boss, by a margin of better than two to one. He was sweeping all but two of the 88 counties. The two were Defiance, which Miller carried, and Fairfield where he was ahead.

Tabulation of ballots from 8116 of the state's 9385 polling places in the Democratic governor race showed:

Lausche, 269,797; Miller, 107,-717; Robert S. Cox, of Millersburg, 16,167; Joseph Torok jr., of Youngstown, 5,639.

Meanwhile, Governor Herbert was winning renomination handsdown from two opponents in the Republican primary. The count in 8241 polling places was:

Herbert, 479,537; William L. White, Newark engineer, 45,863; Albert E. Payne, Springfield industrialist, 27,625.

In the other state-wide races the tabulation of returns indicated the opponents in the November election would line up like this:

Lieutenant governor — Paul Hebert, Republican incumbent, versus George D. Nye, Democrat, of Waverly. Both nominated without opposition.

Secretary of state - Edward J.

Putnam Wins Judge Contest

Robert B. Putnam, incumbent judge of the fifth Ohio circuit court of appeals, won the Republican nomination without great effort Tuesday.

Putnam, of Millersburg, led W. Thurman Todd two to one with returns complete from all but three of the 15 counties. The vote: Putnam 39,056; Todd 19,778.

Todd carried only his home county—Knox—2539 to 614.

Richland gave Putnam 2206 to 752, Ashland 1258 to 868, Delaware 1539 to 1173; Fairfield 1683 to 752, Guernsey 1941 to 1340, Holmes 560 to 78, Licking 2882 to 1821, Morrow 703 to 621, Muskingum 6309 to 2936, Stark 16,703 to 6,146, Tuscarawas 2658 to 752. Returns were missing from Coshocton, Morgan and Perry counties.

Putnam's November opponent will be John H. Lamneck, unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Taft Claims Delegate Lead

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) today claimed a triumph over Harold E. Stassen in Ohio balloting and predicted he will wind up with 45 of that state's 53 Republican presidential nominating delegates.

Further, Taft said in a statement, he now has more delegates who will support him on the first ballot at the party's convention in Philadelphia next month than any other candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

Senator Nips Stassen's Run Of Victories

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Robert A. Taft became a favorite today for the Republican presidential nomination by his victory over Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota in the Ohio primary.

Taft had won at least 45 out of 53 delegates in Ohio's popular balloting on the GOP presidential nomination and had a chance of ending up with one or two more.

The Ohio results are certain to give Taft's nationwide followers a shot in the arm toward victory at the Philadelphia convention in June.

The Taft victory halted young Stassen's sensational run of successes in presidential primaries. It virtually demolished his chances of winning the GOP nomination.

The Ohio outcome will encourage followers of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York toward defeating Stassen in the Oregon primary May 21. Dewey is already campaigning in Oregon and Taft's victory in Ohio can be expected to boost Dewey's chances of success in Oregon.

Stassen went into Ohio, an industrial state, after whitewashing Dewey in Wisconsin, a dairy state, and defeating both Dewey and Taft in Nebraska, a farm state. In Ohio, Stassen was defeated decisively in his first contest against the leaders in an industrial state.

Ordinarily, Stassen might be credited with a victory by winning eight or nine delegates in Ohio, Taft's home state. But Stassen picked his spots where he entered his candidates against Taft.

The Minnesotan ignored 30 Ohio districts, where Taft might have been called a favorite.

The Taft labor law was made an issue by Stassen. The balloting, however, gave the statute a substantial popular endorsement, something Stassen apparently did not anticipate.

STRATEGY FAILS

In the state at large, Stassen entered only one candidate in order to concentrate on that single nominee against nine Taft candidates. This procedure should have insured victory for Stassen's single nominee—a very popular retired chief justice of the state's supreme court.

Somehow the voters swarmed to Taft's standard and rejected Stassen's strategy.

A secondary outcome of the Ohio election is the advancement of House Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts as a dark-horse possibility in event Taft does not win the nomination. Martin is regarded as a legatee of Taft's strength if the convention deadlocks.

In pre-election forecasts, neutral experts predicted Stassen would win from a low of six to a high of 15 delegates. Stassen's leaders said he would win 20 delegates, and a few predicted he would win all 23.

City Asked To Build Underpass

Council Gets Request For $200,000 Project

A petition requesting construction of a passenger and vehicular tunnel under the Baltimore and Ohio and Erie railroads between Lawnsdale avenue and North Lake park at an approximate cost of $200,000 was presented to city council last night.

The document, signed by 230 persons, was brought to council by Marion Sackman, one of the fathers of the underpass proposal.

He told council that a 30-foot-right-of-way between Lawnsdale avenue and the north edge of the tracks had already been obtained from the owner of the land.

The idea was given added impetus recently by The News-Journal disclosure that Senior high school pupils daily risk their lives by crossing the tracks at the point of the proposed underpass.

Sackman did not have any accurate estimate of the cost of the proposed underpass, but said that an engineer friend had estimated the work would cost $200,000.

The idea of creating a safe railroad crossing to link the northwest and southwest sections of the city has been discussed for the past 25 years. Previous attempts to have an overpass built have been stymied by the excessive costs.

Lausche Whips Miller Two to One In Richland

Richland county Democrats gave former Gov. Frank J. Lausche a resounding vote of approval in Tuesday's primary. Lausche carried 90 of Richland county's 97 precincts to lead Ray T. Miller, former Cleveland mayor, almost two to one, 3,013 votes to 1,676. The other candidates, Robert J. Cox and Joseph Torok jr., received 226 and 42, respectively.

Miller made his best showing in Mansfield which gave Lausche 1,697 to Miller's 1,162. Lausche showed far greater strength in the townships and villages.

At that, Lausche took all but one Mansfield ward—the fifth. The Miller count there was 249 to Lausche's 206. Precinct B in that ward where Mose Haynes backed Miller, voted 92 to five for Miller.

Republicans backed Gov. Thomas J. Herbert to the hilt. He received 4,025 votes to 231 for Albert Edward Payne and 349 for William L. White.

Votes cast in Richland county in other state contests follow:

Lieutenant governor: Republican—Paul M. Herbert, 3,964; Democrat—George D. Nye 3,457.

Secretary of State: Republican—Edward J. Hummel, incumbent, 2,820; Ted W. Brown 1,308. Democrat—James H. Sullivan 858, Charles F. Sweeney, 2,315; Fred C. Ruth 355; Joseph W. Harding 564.

Stassen Delegate Makes Poor Showing In Richland

Harold Stassen's delegate-at-large candidate made a poor showing in Richland county, finishing tenth in a field of 10.

Carrington T. Marshall received just 2,161 votes in the county. Voters here could indicate their preference for Stassen over Senator Robert A. Taft only by voting for Marshall.

The Republican organization which had endorsed Taft waged a brisk mail campaign on behalf of the Ohio senator.

Taft's nine delegate-at-large candidates won the nine places on the ticket

Votes they received included: Frances P. Bolton, 2,765; John W. Bricker, 3,112; Clarence J. Brown, 2,848; Katharine Kennedy Brown, 2,582; Myers Y. Cooper, 2,804; Thomas J. Herbert, 3,080; Fred H. Johnson, 2,721; Charles H. Jones, 2,708; and Ed. D. Schorr, 2,544.

Schorr, former Republican state chairman, received fewer votes than any other delegate-at-large candidate pledged to Taft.

Rufus S. Day jr., an alternate-at-large candidate, pledged to Stassen, also lost out in Richland county, running tenth in a field of 10.

DEMS UNOPPOSED

Delegates and alternates-at-large candidates to the Democratic national convention had no opposition. They are pledged to W. A. Julian as "Ohio's Favorite Son," but the votes actually will go to President Truman.

Candidates for 17th district delegates and alternates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions had no opposition.

Delegates to the Republican convention will be Charles G. Devoe and O. W. Whitney jr., while the alternates will be Earl A. McFarland and Raymond D. Merchant.

Democratic party delegates are Charles V. Critchfield and Allen Martin, with Russell D. Kissner and Harold E. Pierce as alternates.

Indians Drop Third In Row to A's

Four-Baser In Tenth Decides Tilt

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) Bill Veeck's cry for "one more starting pitcher" grew louder today after five Cleveland Indian hurlers were unable to bring the Tribe out of their current slump.

A two-run homer by Eddie Joost in the last half of the 10th inning yesterday in Philadelphia left the Redskins clinging to the American league lead. The 8-6 defeat was the third straight loss for the Tribe.

Charlie Wensloff, who was making his first appearance of the season, delivered the fateful pitch to joost after four other Tribe hurlers—Bob Muncrief, Steve Gromek, Ed Klieman and Russ Christopher—had been sent to the showers.

ROBINSON HITS ONE

Cleveland scored one run in the second when Eddie Robinson hit his fourth home run of the year over the right field wall. They added two more in the third on four bases on balls and a single by Robinson.

Muncrief, the starting pitcher, gave up one run in the first and three in the third on a home run by Sam Chapman with two men aboard to put Philadelphia in the lead 4-3.

The Tribe fought back in the sixth, however, and scored three times. Ken Keltner opened the inning with a double to right center. Jim Hegan then walked and Hank Edwards, batting for Gromek, hit into a double play. However, consecutive singles by Thurman Tucker, Larry Doby, Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon accounted for the three tallies, before Robinson ended the inning by fouling to the catcher.

LOU BRISSIE WINS

The Athletics also used five hurlers in copping the victory. Phil Marchildon started on the mound and was relieved by Chuck Harris when he wrenched a muscle in his back. Bob Savage, Alex Kellner and Lou Brissie followed in that order, with Brissie receiving credit for the win.

After the game, Manager Lou Boudreau announced a revised lineup for today's contest with the Athletics, which, if the Mackmen win, would put them in first place.

The shortstop-manager said that Hank Edwards would start in right field in place of Larry Doby and Jim Hegan would be replaced by Joe Tipton.

DOESN'T GIVE UP

Boudreau said, however, that he has not given up on Doby, who has been striking out and making errors frequently, but is forced to experiment now that the Tribe has lost three in a row.

Gordon has been dropped to sixth in the batting order from his cleanup spot, and Robinson has been moved into the fourth position. Dale Mitchell, the left fielder, has been boosted to the second spot, following leadoff man Tucker.

Meanwhile, at the Indians' front office, General Manager Rudy Schaffer announced that Pat Seerey has been taken off the waiver list and will continue in Tribe uniform. Three clubs, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago in the American league, had made clairs to Pat, Schaffer said.

IN MEMORY of my dear husband and father, Ralph O. Lomax, who passed away one year ago today, May 5, 1947

It's lonesome here without you

(Both Fresh and Springers)

There are cows in this offering with records of production of 400-lbs. and over of butterfat. Many heifers classified "good plus." Some cows classified "very good." All the registered are imported from Canada. All the well known and better blood strains will be represented. All registration certificates transferred free of charge. Four generation pedigrees furnished.

CALVES SOLD SEPARATELY

The grades are purebred Canadian Holsteins, but cannot be registered. Their ability to produce profitably is very evident and with the abundance of fresh pasture available, this is an opportunity to increase the herd or make replacements at the right time. The majority of the entire offering are first and second calf heifers. Many are calfhood vaccinated. State laboratory tested. The balance are young cows.

U. S. Seeks To Dissolve Film Empire

Opposes Producers As Theater Owners

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The government set out today to drop an economic curtain between the two most important segments of the movie industry—the film producer and the theater owner.

In the wake of an encouraging Supreme court decision, the justice department's anti-trust experts served notice that they intend to ask a New York Federal court to order five big moviemakers to sell their 3,000-odd theaters throughout the country.

The Supreme court ruled 7 to 1 Monday that the government's anti-trust case against the film producers should be sent back to the lower court. But it ordered the lower court to take a sterner attitude toward the producers.

The lower court ruled last year that the producers could buy no more theaters and must sell all theaters in which they had only a partial interest. Both parties appealed this decision to the Supreme court.

The high court ruled that the lower court, in finally deciding the case, could order the "big five" to sell some—if not all—of the theaters they now own.

Government anti-trust lawyers declined official comment. But they made it clear they intend to go all the way and ask the lower court to compel the companies to sell every theater they own.

WOULD BRING CHANGE

Such a move would revolutionize the economic structure of the film industry. As of 1945 the defendants involved, owned theaters in almost every large town in the country.

If the government succeeds, the movie-going habits of the public may be drastically changed.

At present new Hollywood films are viewed almost exclusively in the "show-window" theaters owned by the big producers. Under yesterday's decision the lower court might rule that independents can have a crack at first-run films too.

The government first brought its civil suit against the producers in 1938, and the case has dragged through the lower courts ever since.

The "big five" defendants were Paramount, 20th - Century - Fox, Loew's, Warner Brothers and R-K-O.

Universal, Columbia and United Artists which do not own movie theaters were co-defendants. They were named in the suit because they give exclusive rights to their films to theaters owned by the other five producers.

The Supreme court's decision was written by Associate Justice William O. Douglas. Justice Felix Frankfurter dissented. Justice Robert Jackson took no part.

Father Kills Girl, Self

Man In Despair Over Attack

NASHVILLE, Ind. — (UP) — The bodies of a pretty, 16-year-high school girl and her father were found in their small Brown county cabin here Tuesday. Both had been shot to death.

Coroner Jack Bond said that Raleigh Blume, 55, apparently had killed his daughter and then killed himself. The reason, the coroner said, was Blume's despair over a criminal attack on the girl by four men Sunday night.

Oddie Swift, 24, Brown county farmer, is held in jail, charged with being one of the four who attacked the girl.

A neighbor, E. J. Meyrick, found the bodies shortly before noon today. A note, dated Tuesday, found near the bodies, was believed to be in Blume's handwriting, the coroner said. It was addressed to "Dear Mase" and believed to be meant for Sheriff Mason Reddick.

"I am going to end it all. I cannot stand it," the note said.

"Notify my brother, Eugene Blume, South Haines, Alliance, O. He will be my only heir. Here is checkbook, bonds and cash of about $20. Also I have a lot and set of logs on it worth $700, all paid for except one year's taxes. I am as ever, your brother. Will be somewhere near."

Neighbors said Blume usually addressed the sheriff as "brother" because of lodge affiliations.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency Board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employes, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as the figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim!

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

Galion Attorneys Tangle Over Delays In Council

GALION—Remarks by three attorneys pertaining to council procedures and action on city legislation brought a lively ending to the regular meeting of city council last night.

City Solicitor George Davies and two attorneys from the lobby, Kenneth M. Petri and Carl J. Gugler, took part in the discussion.

The lawyers were brought to their feet after an alert city councilman called attention to the fact that legislation is often delayed from one meeting to another because of some mix-up in technicality and that he, being a new councilman, wanted to know where to place the responsibility.

In the course of the discussion the solicitor asserted council committees should investigate matters before motions are made in order that he might prepare ordinances. A spokesman from council complained that ordinances were to placed in the hands of members early enough to permit comprehensive study, to which the solicitor replied that he was not given the material for preparation until a few hours before council meetings.

RECODIFICATION URGED

One of the attorneys from the lobby reminded those present that members of council are new, and have not been informed as to their duties. Both visiting attorneys suggested that a recodification of city ordinances would assist councilmen greatly in performing their duties. It was pointed out that this had not been done for many years.

Business transacted by council included:

Passage of a resolution to protest to the Federal Power Commission the diverting of fuel gas from the lines which supply the Ohio Fuel Gas company..

Passage of an emergency ordinance to pave Grant street.

Passage of a motion to permit the Galion Junior Chamber of Commerce to erect a speedway for miniature model race cars, providing the Jaycees meet safety recommendations of Service-Safety Director John F. Porter.

Action to deny the petition to vacate Harmon street upon Porter's recommendation that this be denied, and that property owners be allowed to erect certain construction to prevent damage to their property.

Mayor H. H. Hartmann's report of collections for the month totaled $335.65.

Morrow OKs Incumbents

MT. GILEAD—Incumbents won renomination in Morrow county yesterday.

Republicans renominated H. R. Fate and Karl Blake for county commissioners with 1161 and 916 votes, respectively, against 827 for Ray Flowers. They renominated Tom England for sheriff 1138 to 598 for Robert Temple.

Democrats renominated County Treasurer W. A. Piper 628 to Walter Ackerman's 133.

Other party nominations were uncontested.

Democrats gave former Governor Lausche a 594 vote to Ray Miller's 125.

Republicans expressed preference to Senator Taft for the presidential nomination. Former Gov. John Bricker led the delegate-at-large slate with 1299 votes. Katherine Brown was ninth with 989 and Harold Stassen's only candidate, Carrington Marshall, trailed with 724.

Dems Reject 1 Incumbent In Holmes

Cox Gets Good Vote; Jail Levy Loses

MILLERSBURG—Holmes county Democrats threw overboard one incumbent, renominated eight, four of them contested, and gave Frank J. Lausche a three-to-one margin yesterday.

Millersburg's own candidate for party nomination for governor, Robert S. Cox, ran a close third in the gubernatorial race. The vote: Lausche 1,311, Miller 427, Cox 423.

Another Millersburg man, Robert B. Putnam, received 560 Republican votes for judge of the circuit court of appeals to 78 for W. Thurman Todd.

A proposed levy for repair of the county courthouse, jail and county home lost 1,644 to 1,261. A 4-mill Clark rural school levy was approved 162 to 52, as was a 1-mill fire protection levy for Mechanic township, 96 to 52.

Incumbents winning contested Democratic races were: State representative: Ray White 1,478, Harry Weiss, 989; probate judge: F. W. Fankhouser 1,320, Hoy Russell 1,182; county recorder: Evelyn Anderson 1,209, Ray Everhart 797; county treasurer: Ruby Walter Cowgill 1,605, Donald Buggett 822.

Uncontested renominations of Democratic incumbents were Elmo Estil, clerk of courts; Isha Manley, sheriff; Wayne Starner, Karl Snyder, engineer.

Incumbent county commissioner Frank Engel was defeated. H. H. Allison and C. A. Calhoun won the Democratic nominations with 1,081 and 1,077 votes, respectively, to 744 for Engel, and 913 for Clyde Kreiter and 324 for William Hummel.

There were no contests for Republican nominations for county offices.

Shelby Acts To Assure Light Bonds

Special Meeting Set For Thursday

SHELBY — City council will hold a special meeting at 7 p. m. Thursday to act on further legislation needed for the $400,000 bonds to be issued for the Municipal Light company improvement project.

All of the legislation must be certified so it was held over for a special meeting to avoid confusion.

A well-lighted softball diamond at the municipal waterworks appears to be assured for Shelby this summer.

Gilbert Scott, contractor, is removing the old lighting equipment from the W. W. Skiles' athletic field where the school board is installing new lights.

City council authorized Mayor W. R. Morris this week to purchase the old lights at salvage price and the mayor said the city probably would place them at the waterworks diamond.

"If such a project is carried out, there can be no charge made at the games except through collections to defray expenses," Mayor Morris said.

Council went on record as supporting the Ohio Fuel Gas company's appeal for additional natural gas supplies from the Ohio Power Commission at Washington, D. C., to fill the underground storage facilities in Ohio for next winter.

The city has agreed on a compromise price of $9,500 for property owned by Mack Crawford on Mohican street to be used for storing the municipal light company trucks. Crawford has asked $9,800 for two lots and the two buildings on the land which will be used by the light company as a garage and for storage of equipment.

A petition from property owners on the west side of North Gamble street near the city limits for a sanitary sewer was received and placed on file by council.

Fire Chief Ward has been authorized to contact Cuyahoga Falls for a copy of that city's building code from which Shelby's code may be revised to cover the new type of buildings now being constructed.

Councilman E. E. Eckert has advocated a larger minimum for materials to be used in a building. The code now is set at $500.

Funk Resigns City Position

NEW LONDON — City council has accepted the resignation of Eugene Funk, superintendent of water and sewer plants.

Funk resigned to enter private business as the Funk Construction company.

Harold Cooke, assistant under Funk, will be the new superintendent and Fred Monroe, former plant maintenance man, will become assistant. Funk will remain as advisor until Cooke is fully licensed.

LUCAS PLAY CAST—The play, "Divine Flora," will be presented Thursday and Friday night at Lucas high school. Six members of the cast pose in a typical scene. Left to right: Gene Oreweiler, Gene Little, Bob Mowers, Vivian Au, Don Stake and Bill Brooks.

"WHEN BREAD TASTES LIKE CAKE"

Part of the charm of a visit to old French-Canadian vacation centres like Murry Bay, situated on the mighty St. Lawrence River, 90 miles below Quebec City, is such scenes as this. Here the natives still use the outside baking ovens from which homemade bread comes, piping hot, and tastes to the outdoor-whetted appetite as delicious as pastry or cake. Thick-crusted luscious "Habitant" bread is a gourmet's thrill, experienced only in the remoter Quebec region. This oven near Murray Bay is characteristic of the type still used by the natives. Murray Bay is the site of the famous Manoir Richelieu Hotel, known as "the Newport of the North." — Advertisement.

Taft Is Given Impressive Support

SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT has now been given a strong endorsement by Ohio Republicans in his candidacy for the presidential nomination at the GOP national convention to be held in Philadelphia next month.

In the only statewide opportunity offered to express preference between Senator Taft and former Minnesota Governor Harold E. Stassen, Carrington T. Marshall, the Stassen-pledged candidate for delegate-at-large, trailed the low man among the nine names presented as delegates pledged to support Taft.

Also noteworthy is that the only showing of strength made by Stassen was in districts in which large industrial cities were expected to evidence opposition to the Ohio senator entirely on the issue of the Taft-Hartley law rather than on any fair estimate of the comparative qualifications of the two men for the presidency.

It will be noted also that even in these carefully selected districts Taft-pledged delegates won a majority of the places, which indicates that on a direct test a majority inclines to support the intended restraint on intolerable practices of some leaders of labor organizations.

This will no doubt be taken into account in other states as the outcome of yesterday's primary is being analyzed, and the conclusion will probably be reached that Senator Taft's chances of winning the Republican presidential nomination have been enhanced by the fine support accorded him in his home state.

There Mustn't Be a Railroad Strike!

EFFORTS to reach agreements whereby the threatened strike of railway workers can be averted have thus far failed and talk has now turned to government seizure of the railroads in advance of next Tuesday, May 11—the date set for the strike.

There is a question now as to whether President Truman continues to have the wartime power to order such procedure—as he did in May 1946 after two chaotic days during which railroad engineers and trainmen were out on strike.

There should be no question at any time—in war or peace—about the authority of government to act in such a way as to assure uninterrupted service by the nation's railroads, upon which millions of people are dependent for the essentials of life.

It is a controversy over demands for wage increases by engineers, switchmen and firemen that has resulted in the present situation, these groups holding out against recommendations of the President's fact-finding board for 15½ cents an hour raise in pay and insisting on a 30 per cent wage boost.

Railroads are dependent for income on rates approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, thus being unlike industries that can boost prices of products to cover whatever wage increases they grant. This necessitates some sort of government supervision over railroad expenditures, and it was with this fact in mind that the federal Railway Labor Act was devised around twenty years ago, providing for an elaborate series of steps to be taken to promote peaceful settlement of disputes. This served to prevent any major railroad strikes for many years, but now appears inadequate.

Because of this special legislation railway workers are not subject to the Taft-Hartley law, despite the unendurable situation they can create by a strike. If, by any chance, authority is lacking to prevent the railroad strike threatened for next Tuesday, then, by all means, it is incumbent upon Congress to take speedy action to remedy this weak spot in restrictive legislation—for there must be governmental restraint on organized minorities that act in disregard of the general welfare.

No Surprises In County Contests

INSOFAR as Richland county offices are concerned, yesterday's primaries offered few contests on either ticket, although the races for Democratic and Republican nominations for sheriff served to enliven campaigning.

Results in these contests were never in doubt as, on the Democratic side, former Sheriff Emmett P. (Doggie) Long took an early lead which he held throughout the count, and C. M. Chatlain took top place over three contenders for the Republican nomination.

It was only among Republicans that there was a contest for county commissioner, with three aspirants contending for the two nominations, the successful ones being present commissioner, John W. Selby, and former commissioner, John C. Friday, with present commissioner, Guy F. Stewart and Fred W. Dill as their Democratic opponents, nominated without opposition.

Candidates for other county offices were nominated without contests, and, all in all, it was a pleasant sort of affair.

Lausche Regains Political Limelight

IN DEMOCRATIC circles the comeback of former Governor Frank J. Lausche as the party's nominee to oppose Governor Thomas J. Herbert at the November election was of outstanding interest in yesterday's primaries.

Defeated by Herbert two years ago by a margin of more than forty thousand votes, Lausche successfully contended against Cleveland's former Mayor Ray T. Miller for the Democratic nomination, despite organization opposition, and the race for the governorship again promises to present a lively contest.

New Coin Says 'In God We Trust'

THAT NEW half dollar coin is now getting into circulation—some being available in Mansfield banks—and it's an attractive piece of money. On the obverse side there is the likeness of Benjamin Franklin, who can be imagined to be saying: "Better keep me instead of hurrying to spend me," while on the reverse side is a small replica of the Liberty Bell, with the words, "United States of America" above, "Half Dollar" below, and "E Pluribus Unum" alongside.

But it is on the Franklin side that a strange thing is noted. Above his head is the word, "Liberty," as might be expected, and alongside, in the direction in which he is facing, are the figures, "1948," but in the arc below the head of Franklin, in larger letters than are customarily used on a coin, are the words, "IN GOD WE TRUST," which must be extremely obnoxious to every atheist in the country.

And, furthermore, there may be a danger of such a coin falling into the hands of a public school pupil, who might, by chance, ask a teacher to explain the meaning of those four words—but the teacher would be silenced by a recent Supreme Court ruling, for trust in God cannot be disattached from religion and that subject dare not be touched upon in the public schools.

Doesn't Look Like That's Going to Work Either.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Only Ten Days For UN Palestine Action

TEN DAYS from now Britain will surrender her mandate over the Holy Land and the lid will be off the Arab-Jewish war—unless a harassed United Nations can evolve a plan to prevent a catastrophe.

Ten days—just the flick of an eyelid as time goes when a fast-moving emergency like this is faced! At best, the UN will have to pull a rabbit out of the hat to handle the situation. At worse, this Middle East conflict could develop into another world upheaval.

And when one stops to survey the whole complicated muddle the question naturally arises whether there would be greater danger in continuation of the Palestine upheaval or in an inability of the UN to do anything about it.

Certainly a failure of the peace organization to do something constructive would be a terrible blow to the morale of its supporters.

Anyway, England is giving up her mandate on May 15, and expects to have her troops out of Palestine by August 1. Furthermore, the British say that after the surrender of the mandate they will employ their diminishing armed forces merely defensively, to protect the completion of their withdrawal.

In short, all restraint will have been removed from the developing conflict—unless there is UN intervention.

* * *

Anxious Waiting.

MEANTIME the situation in Palestine is (to use the language of the British army) "seriously deteriorating." The Britons rushed troops, tanks and guns to the Holy Land from Malta and Cyprus to cope with the worsened conditions. This was to supplement a force estimated by competent observers to be about 25,000 troops.

Reports of developments are conflicting. Syrian, Lebanese and Egyptian troops apparently have massed on the Palestine frontiers and may even have invaded the Holy Land. Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan and Iraq are said to be ordering forces to the battle zone. However, when you have sifted out all the known facts, the rumors and the questionable reports the situation seems to boil down to this:

Thus far the Jewish army in Palestine has had the advantage in the fighting and has improved its positions. Moreover AP correspondent Daniel De Luce reports from Jericho that he talked with Arab refugees bound for Trans-Jordan and that they were acidly skeptical of the reported agreement by the Arab nations to wipe out the Zionist state. One formerly wealthy merchant from Jerusalem said:

"Talk of Arab governments rescuing Palestine sounds like another case of 'too little and too late.' If they send all the 30,000 regulars they're supposed to have promised to send, the Jews have 45,000 trained soldiers here in this country and inexhaustable riches to draw on from overseas."

Whether this merchant was sure of his figures remains to be seen. Still, the indications are that the Jewish forces are relatively strong and have considerable excellent equipment.

Furthermore, they presumably will be able to import further war materiel after the British mandate is surrendered.

There was one bright spot in an otherwise dark picture. Jews and Arabs agreed on a 48-hour truce in their battle for the Katamon quarter of Jerusalem. Sir Henry Gurney, chief secretary for the Palestine government, intervened to secure a cease-fire order.

Surely this means that the position isn't hopeless from the standpoint of peace-makers.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Saturday, May 5, 1928

Report came from St. Petersburg, Fla., that more than forty Mansfielders had visited there during the winter season.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harbaugh, South Main street; daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Wise, 110 Glenn avenue; daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Knapp, 67 Myers avenue.

Building permit was issued to Charles C. Getz for frame residence on Vennum avenue at estimated cost of $4,000.

Rev. Earl R. Brown spoke on "Business Ethics" at meeting of Amima club held at Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Jr. O. U. A. M. presented a flag and Bible to Newville school, presentation having been made by E. E. Wigton, who attended the school.

Lyle Shade, Fifth avenue, was injured while riding on the running board of a truck that was hit by a car at the intersection of Weldon and Dickson avenues.

Many Mansfield music lovers went to Cleveland to attend grand opera performances.

Washington Calling

Odd Course In Germany

By MARQUIS CHILDS

A NEW censorship was imposed the other day on news out of the American zone of occupation in Germany, and a protest was quickly forthcoming from American correspondents. While this may signify little, as American officials in Berlin insisted, it will serve nonetheless to stir new doubts as to what the policy of this government really means for Germany and the German people.

We read that the German board of directors of the Tri-Zonal bank of the German states have named as president and chairman of the board two financiers who were among the most useful servants of the nazis.

Herman J. Abs and August Schniewind put their brains and their skill at the service of the top nazis, the former particularly in pillaging the occupied countries of their economic resources.

The average American will be puzzled by this turn of events. Where does responsibility lie? What did we fight a war for if it was only to restore such men to power?

Schniewind was recently made liaison officer for the European Recovery Program and the bizonal economic administration. This could be a position of paramount influence in shaping the direction of the German economy.

It is perfectly true, of course, as American military men argue, that they must use Germans with appropriate brains and technical skills. The fact that a German is a good Social Democrat who has suffered for his belief in democracy does not mean that he can be useful in helping to restore the German economy. Most of the able men seem to have been tainted with nazism in one way or another.

But this is not an answer to the larger question. That is whether control over German industry in the American and British sectors is being handed back to the same masters who made it possible for Hitler to conquer Europe.

* * *

Real Authority Lacking.

THE SUSPICION grows that just this is happening. A directive of three months ago to the American command in Germany pretty much nullified the whole program to de-concentrate and de-cartelize German industry. It produced a strong protest from employes in the de-cartelization branch in Berlin, who were branded "disloyal" by Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, U. S. deputy military governor.

At the same time, there are reports of deep dissatisfaction among the rank and file of Germans. They see the extreme right, including those who helped to create nazism, being restored to power. This is a beautiful gift to the communists. They exploit it for all it is worth.

Thus, in some way, the Soviet-sponsored news agency in Berlin got hold of General Hayes' rebuke to the Americans in the de-cartelization branch and made excellent propaganda with it.

It is easy to blame the military commanders on the spot for what is happening. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor, has carried a tremendous and difficult task which seems, with each passing day, to grow more troublesome.

Shortly after the war's end, it was decided to turn the responsibility over to civilians. James F. Byrnes, then secretary of state, evaded that responsibility.

He didn't want to take over this sprawling and quarrelsome baby. Side-stepping the responsibility, he left the military in control.

Under a later plan, the state department was to take over this June. Weeks of preparation went into that plan, and then, abruptly, it was abandoned, presumably because of the growing crisis with Russia.

In the absence of any real authority, it looks as though a few officials exercise the authority and make the vital decisions.

Perhaps because it's the easiest way or perhaps because it's where their own prejudices lie, they are handing the levers of control back to those who wrecked the machine.

Strong Oil Lobby Has Two Great Goals

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—To understand the ramifications of the oil lobby, you have to realize that it has two great goals—Arabian oil and tidelands oil. These comprise the two greatest untapped oil resources in the world.

It isn't fair to put every American oil company in the lobby, because a lot of them only suffer as a result of the bad publicity stirred up by their competitors.

Actually, Standard Oil of California and the Texas Oil company are the prime movers in the lobby, with the Guaranty Trust company and some of the big bankers putting up considerable amounts of dough.

To understand one phase of how the lobby works, you need only call the roll of government officials who worked for the Arab-American oil combine. Oilmen were able to put their own officials inside the government, then draw them out again, almost at will.

So it's easy to see how the lobby operates with greased lightning efficiency—whether it be Palestine or selling overpriced oil.

Here is a list of key officials who at one time or another worked for both sides:

Adm. Andrew F. Carter, head of the Army-Navy Petroleum Board, now with the American-Arabian oil combine. His brother, Adm. William J. Carter, was in charge of naval purchases and ordered the Arabian oil for which the Navy paid $38,000,000 too much.

James Duce, head of the foreign division of the Petroleum Administration for War, is now vice-president of American-Arabian Oil.

C. F. Snodgrass, served under Duce in the government, is now with International corporation, employed to build the Arabian pipeline.

Comdr. Ralph Fowler of the Navy's fuel division, participated in the negotiations by which the Navy purchased high-priced Arabian oil, is now employed by the American-Arabian Oil company.

Lt. Col. E. P. Kavanaugh, on the Army-Navy oil board, got special priorities for American-Arabian oil to build its refinery. He now represents the combine in Washington.

Franz von Schilling was Middle Eastern oil attache for the state department in Cairo, while on leave from the oil combine. He is now back with them.

J. Howard Marshall, general counsel for the Petroleum Administration for War, is attorney for Standard Oil of California.

No matter how conscientious some of these may have been, it is difficult for anyone to determine the dividing line between duty to his country and duty to his company. Significantly, Ralph Davies, deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration, later lost out with Standard of California, reputedly because he favored his country more than his company.

Battle Over Syrup.

A SMALL-SCALE battle similar to the oleomargarine feud is in the offing—this time over maple syrup.

Vermont's conscientious Senator Aiken, who can detect pure Vermont maple syrup from all the synthetic substitutes, will crack down on restaurants that offer maple syrup on the menu, then serve corn syrup instead.

Aiken has already consulted the food and drug administration and the federal trade commission.

He argues that if restaurants can get away with passing off corn syrup as maple syrup, they will start substituting margarine for butter as soon as the taxes on yellow margarine are lifted.

Incidentally, Aiken is a powerful member of the senate agriculture committee which must pass on the repeal of margarine taxes. That battle has only passed the house—is only half won.

* * *

Air Force Waits.

WHILE Senator Robert Taft was fighting for his political life in Ohio, he still tried to run the Senate by long-distance telephone.

He kept acting Senate Leader Kenneth Wherry constantly on the end of the wire, and insisted upon holding up all controversial measures until he could get back and pass on them. As a result, the Senate was forced to recess intermittently—despite the fact that the spring logjam of bills was worse than ever.

At least one Republican, however, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, refused to stop the legislative wheels merely because Taft was busy campaigning. Ignoring the red light from Ohio, Bridges hurried through with his vital appropriations bill, granting funds to expand the Air Force to 70 groups.

But Taft got on the phone again, and demanded that Wherry keep the bill off the floor until the Ohio primaries were over.

"It's a policy matter and must be decided by the policy committee," insisted Taft, who is policy chairman.

Obediently, "Taft's office boy from Nebraska" herded Bridges into a corner and asked him to hold off a few days. The senator from New Hampshire objected, but Wherry threatened to block the bill on the floor.

So the U. S. Air Force, which is lagging behind Russia in building new planes, was forced to wait for Taft.

Row Over Columbia Basin.

GOVERNMENT departments are usually supposed to pull together, but the agriculture department has issued a stinging, though confidential criticism of the interior department's plan for developing the Columbia river basin. Agriculture department experts are sore because they were not consulted about the farm phases of the program.

The agriculture department's criticism was even sent in the form of a confidential memo to its field offices, branding interior's Columbia river report as a "generalized atlas and travelogue of the watershed."

Highly important to the west, the Columbia river basin plan would establish 238 projects, irrigate 5,360,000 acres of land, and create 50,000 to 70,000 new farms—aside from flood control and public power benefits.

Utilities Resent Restraint

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—Important decisions are in the making in the Senate branch of your Congress affecting federal policy in regulating utilities, electric and natural gas, which in the end also will affect the consumer.

Natural gas is involved directly in the Rizley-Moore bill, already passed by the House, which would weaken and restrict the authority of the Federal Power commission in fixing pipe-line rates and otherwise regulating the natural gas industry. This authority was imposed by Congress ten years ago in the 1938 Natural Gas Act.

Enactment of this proposed law would mean higher prices for the natural gas consumer and the further enrichment, at his expense, of a few big companies that control natural gas.

An FPC study estimated that rate increases made possible by this bill would yield some $56,000,000 more yearly to eleven of the biggest gas pipeline companies.

This would come out of the consumer's pocketbook and for no sound reason in economics or justice. For profits of the natural gas companies already are quite handsome.

The Senate interstate commerce committee is scheduled to vote this week on the Rizley-Moore bill which has been considered since its passage by the House by a subcommittee headed by Senator E. H. Moore (R., Okla.), its Senate sponsor.

While the subcommittee voted two to one for the measure, there are good prospects that the measure will be defeated by the full committee of thirteen members. Last session the committee beat the bill by a 6 to 5 vote, with two members not voting.

For what looks like defeat by an even larger margin this time, the consumer probably owes most thanks to the fact that this is a national election year. Republicans, who control the Congress and have supplied all the votes in the committee for the bill, are fearful that its passage now, on the eve of election, would give Democrats a good campaign issue. For President Truman would veto it and this would give him an opportunity to tell the public about this bonanza for the natural gas industry.

* * *

Vacancy To Be Filled.

THERE is another issue also coming before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee this week that affects basic utility regulatory policy, and is an outgrowth of the natural gas controversy. This has to do with filling a vacancy on the five-man Federal Power commission. A bit of past history is required.

Last session President Truman nominated Burton N. Behling, special assistant to the commission and chief of its natural gas investigation for this vacancy. The nomination was left pending at the end of the session and the President re-submitted it again this session.

Meanwhile, when the Rizley-Moore bill came before Senator Moore's subcommittee, two members of FPC proposed amendments of their own to the Natural Gas Act, though previously the commission had approved it as it stands. They were Nelson Lee Smith, chairman, and Harrington Wimberly.

Mr. Behling, appearing before the subcommittee to endorse these amendments, said their general effect was about the same as the Rizley-Moore Bill.

Two other FPC members strenuously opposed the amendments—Leland Olds and Claude N. Draper—thus revealing a split in the regulatory agency.

All of this demonstrated very clearly that if Mr. Behling went on the commission it would then divide three-to-two for changes in the basic law which, it was suggested, could be accomplished by the commission, itself, through administrative rulings. This revelation so aroused advocates of effective natural gas regulation that they protested to President Truman and he withdrew the Behling nomination.

To replace it, he submitted recently the name of Thomas C. Buchanan, a lawyer of Beaver, Pa., recognized as a staunch champion of regulation from his ten-year record on the Pennsylvania public utilities commission.

Dave Boone Says:

A JUDGE in the case of six Brooklyn boys who stole a truck, robbed a shooting gallery, and riddled their school teacher's house with rifle fire blames the parents. Well, that's a good, safe line to take. The mothers and fathers of America have no high-salaried "czar" to rush to their defense.

* * *

But for my money no kids ever got the routine of auto stealing, arsenal robbing, and blazing away at a school teacher from the American home, however poor.

* * *

It's curious how the agencies that put the finger on those who, for a fast dollar, feed our young on crime almost always blame the old folks instead.

* * *

Gosh, our mothers and fathers are groggy from trying to combat the evil and vicious routines taught their children everywhere but in the home.

Farmer's Diary

The Practical Nurse

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE private nurse of the patient across the hall from my hospital room was a matronly white-haired woman whose white cap and nurse's costume became her. I noticed that many of the nurses at this particular hospital were women past middle-age, with sweet faces and gentle manners. Their presence gave a certain dignity and confidence to the small establishment, that is not always found in a busy bustling hospital where nurses are in training.

Pretty nurses, I mean to say, are not all of the youthful type.

"How long have you been a nurse?" I asked this lady. "Have you done it all your life? Where did you take your training?"

She laughed. "I began during the war. You see, I was an only child. I married quite young and we have no children. I needed a useful hobby to keep me busy and happy. This work keeps me from becoming selfish, makes me feel needed and gives me a chance to use what I have learned during all my life. Then, too, it pays quite well—a dollar an hour—and I seem to have a knack for it. Anyway I'm always busy.

"I'm not a graduate nurse, understand. My cap is quite plain. I had a graduate nurse threaten to tear off my cap, one time. She claimed I had no right to wear one. I told her Florence Nightingale was a practical nurse, and she wore a cap! I'll wear one, too.

"I studied one year by correspondence with a school in Chicago and I worked out my period of training in a hospital. Now I belong to the Association of Practical Nurses, and since the doctors are familiar with my work, they call on me for the type of cases I can do best." She pointed proudly to a neat pin which centered a dainty lace edge that protruded from her blouse pocket.

"But, how does a practical nurse differ from a graduate nurse?" I wondered.

"We take pride in serving wherever we're called," was all she said. "If we go into a poor home, we makeshift with things as they are. Sometimes we even sweep and dust, if it's necessary to keep a patient gaining. We always cook for the patient and attend to all his wants."

I saw her, a little later, return from the kitchen with a steaming bowl of clear soup. "I strained all the vegetables out, for you," I heard her say to the gentle frail lady whose health was in her hands. "But you'll get the broth of 'em, and that'll do you good and won't upset your poor stomach."

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"With my bridge club coming for lunch, I don't know what I'd have done if you hadn't come along to take the lid off!"

Walter Lippmann Speaks

War Fatalism a Problem Which U. S. Must Solve

Last week the President received from the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America a petition—addressed to the administration and to the people—pleading with then not to "tolerate any complacency about war," and to "reject fatalism about war." Now it may be arguable whether in fact there are many, or even any, men in high places who are complacent about war.

But there is no doubt that the fatalistic view is widely held that war is inevitable, that nothing effective can be done to avert it, that all that can be done is to prepare for it.

The belief that war is inevitable rests on the idea that the two ways of life and systems of government—the Communist and American—are so antithetical and so irreconcilable that no settlement, even if one could be negotiated, would be observed.

This view is plausible. There is do doubt, so at least it seems to me, that the Soviet government and the Communist movement, seek, if they can, to dominate the world, and that they do not feel bound by, if they are able to evade them, agreements which seem to renounce this grandiose ambition.

But in a conflict of this kind what they can do is more important that what they seek to do. Therefore, it does not follow at all that war is inevitable, that negotiation is useless, and that settlements are impossible.

Those who draw this conclusion, the fatalists about war, are in the last analysis the victims of the same fundamental fallacy, though in reverse, as is Henry Wallace. Like him they believe that peace can be had only when there are no radical conflicts of interests and purpose.

He thinks that peace is possible because the conflict is imaginary. They think peace is impossible because the conflict is real. Both identify peace with the absence of conflict.

DIPLOMACY NEEDED

But the fact is that diplomacy is the art of dealing with real conflicts, and its object is to make peace and keep the peace by regulating these real conflicts.

Diplomacy would be as easy as rolling off a log it it were concerned only with peace among peoples who think alike and trust each other. It is the most difficult of all the arts of government because it is concerned with peace among those who do not think alike and do not trust one another.

The fatalistic view, against which the Protestant churchmen have raised their voices, has its ultimate root in the naive notion that two rival systems of government, religion, and morality cannot exist on the same planet, and that the one must destroy the other.

The alternative view is that rival systems have always existed on the same planet, and though they have clashed, their wars have usually been indecisive. Great conflicts of great rival systems, as for example between Christendom and Islam, or between Catholicism and Protestantism, have almost invariably died down in a stalemate.

They have ended not in a universal triumph but in a partition of the contested area, and a modus vivendi, and then of a willingness to live and let live—because of universal triumph has become demonstrably impossible.

More than a hundred years ago, when the czars were still firmly on throne, long before Lenin and Stalin were born, while Karl Marx was, if such a quaint notion is believable, just out of his teens, a French nobleman the Marquis de Custine by name, visited Russia and wrote a book of his impressions.

"Russia," he said "sees Europe as a prey which sooner or later will be delivered to her by our dissensions; among us she foments anarchy with the expectation of profiting from a corruption which she assists because it assists her ends; it is the story of Poland reenacted on a grand cale. For many years Paris has been reading revolutionary journals . . . paid for by Russia. 'Europe,' they say, in St. Petersburg, 'is taking the road that Poland has followed: it is enervating itself with liberalism while we remain powerful precisely because we are not free.'"

Yet as a matter of fact, whatever they may have believed in St. Petersburg, Europe did not become the prey of Russia, and in the century which followed it was not Europe that was enervated by liberalism but czarist Russia disintegrated under despotism.

Nor did the fact that the rulers of Russia were hostile to Europe and its civilization make war between France and Russia inevitable, or cause the statesmen of western Europe who distrusted Russia profoundly to suspend diplomatic relations, or shrink from the labor and the frustrations and the disappointments of negotiation.

There is a rising demand among our people that the attempt to negotiate be renewed and continued, that not only should the doors to peace be kept open but that no effort be spared to pass through them.

County Turns Down Bridge Plan

An agreement by which the federal government would finance half the cost of constructing a new Bowman street bridge over the Black Fork creek, has been turned down by the county commissioners.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk said a new bridge would cost approximately $80,000, the county share totaling $40,000 Commissioners indicated the matter would be considered at a later date.

Convict Indicted On Murder Charge

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Paul Skarpusis, 25-year-old Ohio penitentiary convict, has been indicted on a first degree murder charge for the slaying of a cellmate with a hand-made knife April 24.

The indictment was returned Monday by the Franklin county grand jury after County Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett charged that Skarpusis plunged the knife into the heart of Andy Nahalka, 27, after the victim fell asleep while listening to a radio.

In 1940 Americans spent about four billion dollars for medical service.

Nearly ONE CENTURY Of Service and Satisfaction IN MANSFIELD

Almost an entire century ago, back in 1855, a store known as Scattergood's first opened its doors on Main St. From a small beginning, in what was then a small community, this store offered dry goods, floor coverings and other merchandise that soon became widely and favorably known for its dependability and honest value. Throughout the years, as this store grew with Mansfield, the original policy of its founder, to serve honestly, fully and well has been scrupulously guarded and maintained. And it is with a feeling of justifiable pride that today, in our newer, larger present location so many folks still say, "Yes, I can always depend on Scattergood's." As a token of appreciation for the confidence shown in this store by so many of you, we launch this great 93rd Anniversary Celebration, with traditional recognized quality merchandise, at savings that are genuine and worthwhile.

Irwin Sees Red Threat In France

Analyst Says U. S. Could Remake World

An expert on foreign affairs told Mansfield Rotarians yesterday that the United States could 'remake the world' if it adopted a definite foreign policy

Spencer D Irwin former Mansfielder, asserted 'we have frittered away the power that is ours as victors of the war and as the world's greatest nation"

He stressed the importance of the American government forming a fundamental program in the European countries

"We must have a policy which will give the other peoples in the world the type of government they are entitled to," he said. "We have won a victory in Italy but the threat of communism in France is even greater."

'The DeGaulle party in France has already formed storm troops and a gestapo every bit as powerful and organized as the infamous German gestapo ' he warned

Irwin associate editor and foreign affairs analyst for the Cleveland Plain Dealer spoke at the Rotary club s luncheon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel

'We must have a policy and make up our minds to continue intervening in foreign policies as we did in Italy " he said 'It is our responsibility and at the same time a privilege that we must use before someone else takes advantage of it

"What will happen if we make up our minds' What would we be able to do° I'll tell you. We could remake the world"

Irwin was invited to speak to the Rotarians by program chairman Henry G Brunner Millard Pryor, club president presided

GUY OBRECHT . . . with his big mushroom

Mansfielder Finds 3 1-2 Pound Mushroom Near Mohicanville

Guy Obrecht, Sixth avenue could hardly believe his eyes yesterday morning when he found a three and-a quarter pound sponge mushroom in the woods near Mohicanville

"The woods around there are full of them" he said, "most of them weighing a pound or a pound and a half"

Obrecht went to Mohicanville to do a little garden spade work for his sister When he finished he started to walk through the surrounding woods

Ten minutes later he had picked a bushel of mushrooms

I've eaten enough mushrooms today to last me for the year he commented but he looked as if he didn't mean it

Army Builds Plane Base

TOKYO — (UP) — Authorities confirmed yesterday that the U S was constructing a large military air base at Misawa northern Honshu within fighter range of Vladivostok Russia's major military Pacific outpost

News of the base has been common knowledge in Tokyo for more than a year, but correspondents refrained from revealing it at the request of U. S. Far East forces, which classified the information as "restricted"

What was described as "unauthorized publication of information about the base in a New York newspaper forced authorities to confirm the story for general circulation

It was understood that the Misawa base has one concrete runway of 8,500 feet with an overall length of more than 9,500 feet including travel approaches The runway is capable of handling the fastest and largest planes now under construction or planned for early use

Construction has been under supervision of U S Far East Air Forces commanded by Lt Gen Ennis Whitehead Thousands of Japanese including women, are employed on the project

Youth Bound Over To Grand Jury

BUCYRUS—Harold Roush 19 Marion waived reading of an affidavit charging him with driving on the wrong side of the road and was bound over to the Crawford county grand jury

Neighbors Aid Rebels, Say Greeks

Charge Operation of Secret Army Camps

By HELEN MAMAS

SALONIKA, Greece — (AP) — Greek rebel forces are swelled by recruits trained secretly in nearby Albania Bulgaria and Yugoslavia a Greek government group attached to the United Nations special committee on the Balkans reports

Training camps for guerrillas have been increased in size and number, the Greek liaison group says, and some are providing medical care for wounded shipped across the Greek frontier.

The activity is carried on by the three northern neighbors of Greece all within the Soviet orbit in spite of a U N general assembly request that nations close to the embattled country do nothing which could furnish aid and assistance to the Greek guerrillas

Members of the liaison group produced sworn statements taken from captured and surrendered rebel soldiers which told of intensive training beyond Greek borders for periods of six months to three years

One surrendered rebel said he spent two years in Bulgarian training camps and that recruits sent to join General Marko's forces were provided with arms, uniforms, food and cigarets before they went "home to fight their brothers."

Seven camps, all operated in high secrecy are set up in the three countries the Greek group asserted Yugoslavian and Bulgarian camps alone are said to be readying thousands of both eager and reluctant raw material for battle

Firm Faces Fraud Case

Indicted By Federal Jury

CHICAGO—(AP) An insurance company and two agencies were indicted Tuesday on charges of using the mails to defraud in the nationa-wide sale of hospitalization and accident policies

A special federal grand jury returned a 30-count indictment against the Northern Trust Life Insurance company, Aurora, Ill., the All-America Insurance agency and the Nation-Wide Insurance service.

Two officers of Northern Trust Life, President Vaughn V Moore and Secretary Eberhard A. Wilmsen, also were indicted

The grand jury heard testimony from 29 policy holders in various states. The indictment charged that from 1945 to 1946, the company rejected 87 per cent of all claims

Benefits paid averaged only $34 the indictment charged despite the fact policy holders were led to believe through literature and advertising that they would get "substantial" protection

During the period, the indictment said, the company took in $200,000 in collections

Prices of Century Ago Bring Groans

Are You Interested In 10-Cent Butter?

By DWYER CLAY

Would you like your room and board at $3 a week?

Would you buy eggs at five cents a dozen, or veal and pork at two cents a pound? Butter at 10 cents a pound and flour at three cents per, or a pound of sugar for eight cents?

Would you pay 25 cents for a bushel of oats or 28 cents for a bushel of corn? Or 62½ cents for a new pair of shoes?

These prices existed in Mansfield 113 years ago. If they sound good to you, just remember that you had to be satisfied with a dollar-a-day wage for about 12 hours work.

The prices and a lot of other interesting items were found among letters and papers which were uncovered recently by David Mecklem, 200 Saxton road.

Two record books and several letter packets were found in an old trunk in Mecklem's attic They are believed to have been left by a former owner of the century-old house.

Among the records and letters written and received by Robert Bowland more than 100 years ago were personal and political messages, legal documents and several home remedies including a "cure" for cancer

The cancer "cure" recipe reads

'CURE' DESCRIBED

"Boil down the lye made of the ashes of Red Oak bark to the consistence of molasses Cover the cancer with it In about an hour afterwards, cover it with a plaster of tar which must be removed after a few days If any protuberances remain in the wounds apply more potash to them, and the plaster again, until they disappear, after which heal the wound with common salve"

Included among the letters was one from Robert Bowlands son of William Boyd, who at that time was serving with the Army of Ohio Volunteers in Mexico in 1842.

He described the horrible death of several friends who had ventured into the open in a small party and were attacked by a band of ruthless Mexican guerillas. Of the five men in the party, two escaped death but the other three were literally cut to ribbons, the letter said.

An editorial written in 1838 for the Shield and Banner referred to the "British spies and emissaries seeking to stir up and foment sectional animosities" Propaganda was also mentioned concerning 'some spiced up long yarns about Her Majesty, the Queen, and her royal baby, Prince Albert My Lord John Russell, My Lord Brohan, etc "

"The honest patriotic part of the community will do well to keep a watchful eye over the movements of these subsidized emissaries of an insidious rival nation, whose object it is to subvert our republican form of government," the editorial said

Council Approves Annexation Move

A preliminary ordinance providing for the annexation of the village of South Boulevards to Mansfield was passed unanimously last night by city council.

The measure is not final and, in effect, only puts the legislators on record as desiring to cooperate in the annexation proceedings.

Next step in the legislative ladder calls for delivering the annexation ordinance and the petition requesting the annexation to the county commissioners.

The commissioners and the county auditor will then work out a debt apportionment between the city and Madison township. When that task is completed, the debt settlement will be submitted to city council which will then act on the final annexation measure.

Last night's measure is void if council fails to approve the debt apportionment made by the county.

South Boulevards' last attempt to be annexed to the city came in 1936 before the village was incorporated. Failing in its effort, the village incorporated in order to take advantage of WPA funds to build a sewer disposal system.

3 Injured In Traffic

Three persons suffered minor injuries as a result of two traffic accidents yesterday.

In a third mishap, Jerry Lomatzch, 8, of 322 West Fourth street, escaped injury when he was struck by a car at Fourth and Main streets at 3:38 p. m.

The driver of the car, Norman Armstrong, Mansfield, R. D. 2, told police that the lad ran in front of the auto.

Luella Pack, 16, of 433½ North Mulberry street suffered shock and Goldie Nickles, 270 North Main street, suffered a bump on the head when a car in which they were riding collided with a car driven by Esther Welty, Mansfield, R. D. 5.

The accident occurred at Hedges and Second streets at 8 p. m. Police said Vernon Kegley, Avalon hotel, who was driving the car in which the two injured persons were riding, failed to stop at the stop sign. Kegley paid a fine of $10 and costs in municipal court today for the violation.

Mrs. Vera J. Nusbaum, 45, of 800 Andover road, suffered minor injuries when a car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, William, was struck by a truck driven by James M. Slagel, Huntington, Ind. The collision occurred at West Fourth street and Penn avenue. Slagel was booked for disregarding a traffic signal and will appear in court May 12.

Mansfielder Injured As Car Overturns

Frank J. Smollen, 22, of 556 Bowman street, suffered a fractured right collar bone last night when the car in which he was riding plunged into a deep ravine five miles north of Mansfield on State Route 39.

State highway patrolmen said the mishap occurred at 11 p. m. when according to the driver, George P. Smollen, 18, the car skidded and turned over.

The driver is a brother of the injured youth and resides at the Bowman street address. He escaped injury along with the third passenger, Dean M. Richard of 611 Bowman street.

Meat Strike In 8th Week

CHICAGO — (INS) — Negotiations seeking to end the nationwide CIO meat packing strike, now in its eighth week, turned to Washington today as the walkout spread to independent slaughter plants.

Representatives of the big four packers, Swift, Armour, Cudahy and Wilson, and the striking CIO United Packinghouse Workers are meeting with Cyrus S. Ching, director of the U. S. conciliation and mediation service in Washington in an effort to reach a settlement.

In Chicago before leaving for Washington, union spokesmen announced the strike would be spread to independent packing plants.

Should the strike spread, the nation will face a possible meat famine.

The CIO big four workers, who normally produce about one half of the nation's meat supply, walked out last March 16 in a dispute over wages.

Auto Firms Gaining On Truck Needs

Medium Units Easier to Get

By DAVID J. WILKIE
(AP Automotive Editor)

DETROIT—(AP)—The auto industry's truck market is beginning to feel the effects of sustained high level output.

Medium weight units, like the heavy type, are becoming a little easier to get. One result, trade sources say, is that truck buyers are more selective in their demand for the medium types.

If the trend continues a lot of manufacturing capacity may be shifted to the production of the light-weight vehicles.

The lighter types still are about as hard to get as are new passenger cars.

The truck assembly lines have been rolling at record speed since the war. The pace, if continued through this year, might bring the buyers' market back in all lines of trucks within the next 12 months.

Since July 1, 1945, when the car industry returned to peacetime production, about 2,800,000 trucks have been assembled. In proportion to the nation's requirements truck output has been much better than passenger car production.

Passenger car output over the same period has totaled slightly more than 7,000,000 units.

NO AID TO CARS

But catching up with truck demand will not hasten delivery of new passenger cars. The industry has been able to make trucks at the rate of more than a million a year because it was able to get plenty or raw material. Little of this material is suitable for passenger car production.

The manufacturing facilities used in truck production, too, are not adaptable to passenger car assemblies.

The industry wants to keep trucks flowing from the assembly lines as rapidly as possible for several reasons. Aside from the tremendous transportation shortage in trucks growing out of the war, commercial units represent a profitable operation. The 1,236,000 trucks of all types produced last year had a wholesale value of close to $1,500,000,000.

Truck operations have figured heavily in the car industry's aggregate output since the war. During the last several weeks trucks have accounted for better than 30,000 of the weekly production volume. And more than half of this has been coming from Chevrolet and Ford.

Sen. Taylor Convicted

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—The conviction of Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Ida) for disorderly conduct here last night was headed for higher courts today as a test of the state's racial segregation laws.

The vice presidential candidate of Henry Wallace's third party was condemned by Police Judge Oliver Hall as a publicity-seeker, then fined $50 and costs and given 180 days in jail.

Judge Hall, however, stayed the sentence and placed Taylor on six months' probation. The defense immediately filed notice of appeal.

When notified in Peoria, Ill., of Taylor's conviction, Wallace commented, "the sentencing of Glen Taylor makes certain the destruction of the Democratic party.

"No party," Wallace continued, "can claim to be liberal and still stand for Jim Crow. Glen was not violating any law; he was upholding the basic law of the land, the Constitution of the United States."

Huge Water Loss Cited

Eighty billion tons of water fall on Ohio annually, C. L. VanDerau told members of the Mansfield Exchange club yesterday. "And only four billion tons a year are used by man for industry and all other purposes," continued the works manager of Westinghouse.

Yet, VanDerau said, there is a shortage of water all over Ohio, because lack of forests permits the unused water to escape in rivers and streams. Not only is Mansfield faced with a continuous threat of inadequate water in the event of a really major fire but Canton, Dayton, Youngstown and many other cities are wrestling with the same problem.

Drawing from more than a decade of association with efforts by the city and the Chamber of Commerce to give Mansfield an adequate supply, the speaker cited the long-range plan which first built an elevated tower to provide pressure in Woodland, then enlarged mains from the reservoir to the business district.

The third step, VanDerau said, was to have been a reservoir on Lumbermens hill. This never materialized. Finally, the Clear Fork reservoir will provide a supply of impounded water for the city which VanDerau saw growing to 60,000 population by 1960.

The former C. of C. president said that the city must bring its antiquated sewer system into line with its expanding water program.

He was introduced by Harry Dailey. The meeting was held at the Sky club.

'Double-Locked' Money Missing

Nick Spertzel, 33 Rowland avenue, told police yesterday that $335 was stolen from his home, $320 of it taken from a locked metal box which was locked in a cedar chest.

Spertzel said there was no sign that the box had been tampered with or that anyone had broken into the house. What added to the mystery, was the fact that the key to the cedar chest was hidden.

Spertzel told police he hadn't checked the contents of the locked metal box for more than a month.

Bids on 5 Street Projects Exceed City's Cost Estimates

Resurfacing of five streets included in the city's $263,000 street improvement program has been held up at least two weeks because bids submitted for the work exceeded the estimates.

The city board of control can't let the contracts until council appropriates more money for the work. The board can reject the bids and re-advertise the work.

The sole bidder was the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company.

The streets to be resurfaced, the estimate and the actual bids follow:

Maple street, from Marion to Brinkerhoff avenues, estimate, $9,925; bid, $11,165.

East Second street, from South Main to Hedges streets, estimate, $9,009; bid, $9,819.

South Adams street, from Park avenue east to East First street, estimate, $4,141; bid, $4,520.

North Adams from East Sixth to Orange streets, and Orange street from North Adams street to Newman street, estimate, $5,795; bid, $6,667.

Water Rate Protest Reported

Representatives of several large Mansfield industries are planning to meet with city council in the near future to request modification of the recently raised water rates, it was reported today.

It was learned today that several firms feel that the recent industrial water rate increase was excessively severe and that it puts Mansfield industries in an unfavorable position as compared with firms in other Ohio cities of similar size.

The recently instituted rate increase nearly doubled the commercial water rate. The increase was made necessary by the fact that the city had to borrow more money to complete the Clear Fork waterworks project and additional income was needed to service the bond issue, city spokesmen said.

At the time of the rate increase, the Chamber of Commerce indicated that it did not intend to protest the increase but instructed its water committee to study the rates with a view to making constructive suggestions toward the establishment of a permanent fee.

Increased Gas Supply Sought

New Shadow Rule Backed

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. —(INS)—The United Nations Trusteeship council today accepted a British offer to appoint a "neutral" mayor to administer Jerusalem.

The larger question—that of an emergency regime for all of Palestine—is being taken up this morning by a special newly-formed subcommittee of the U. N.'s political committee.

The trusteeship group will forward its recommendation to the general assembly today, where it is expected to be approved.

Under the plan, the Palestine high commissioner, Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan G. Cunningham, will appoint a mayor acceptable to both Arabs and Jews. The mayor will take over when the British give up their mandate on May 15.

He will operate under Palestine law, rather than any U.N. regulations, and his only function will be the maintenance of public service.

Zimmerman Declines Post

James L. Zimmerman, Vetsville administrator, who had been mentioned as a successor to E. L. Morgan as service-safety director, said today he would not accept the post.

"I have been approached," he told The News-Journal, "but I do not intend to accept the post."

He is a veteran of both World wars and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the last war.

Meanwhile, the search for Morgan's successor continues. Morgan's resignation becomes effective Sunday.

Strange Mysticism of Nicholas Roerich Attracted Followers

NICHOLAS ROERICH, the Russian Guru of the oriental cult which held the interest of many New Dealers and a god himself in the professed belief of Louis L. Horch, came to the United States in 1920. He was a landscape painter with mystical, spiritualistic and magical sidelines which attracted rich clients or customers.

He could do coin tricks and blow smoke rings out of his ears . He was a student of several Oriental religions and philosophies. Horch was his prize patron, or sucker.

He seriously believed that Roerich's paintings had supernatural healing qualities and he certainly got his ideas on that subject from Roerich himself.

Roerich met Horch in 1922. Roerich was broke or thereabouts and Horch, a broker or speculator in international exchange, a very active box of dice in those days of scrambled valuta, was dough-heavy at the time. Roerich had acquired a press agent of arty, if not artistic, quality who had known Mrs. Horch, first name Nettie, in her school days.

Mrs. Horch is a person of sensitive, spiritual appearance. In an account of her association with Roerich, given after the spell of Roerich's voodoo had been broken, she said she had been completelyy taken in by the guru. Henry Wallace also freely admitted that he had been "taken in" and it will be shown beyond question that he was.

In a small apartment on 103 St., New York, where the Roerichs lived, there were demonstrations of automatic writing and table-rapping. Mrs. Horch was encouraged to believe that Roerich was receiving teachings and guidance from a great spirit brotherhood.

Members of the circle seriously believed that Roerich and Madam Roerich, who was known also by the cultish name of Modra, were thes ole agents of the spirit world on earth and were here to usher in a new spiritual era. Mrs. Horch was allowed to see several books of teachings and records of writings whose contents had been set down in spiritualistic seances, some of them by automatic writing. Later, excerpts from these exclusive revelations were published in a book by Roerich.

Members of the cult understood that Roerich aspired to be the "ruler" of Siberia.

Finally Roerich was to impose on the stupidity of Henry Wallace to obtain official credentials and a salary and expenses from the department of agriculture for a political and somewhat esthetic expedition to Asia on a pretext of collecting grass seed for the so-called dust bowl of Oklahoma.

★

There are several references to this ambition of Roerich's to become "ruler" of Siberia, but there seems to be no definite statement of the actual plan. Whether he desired to become a frankly mundane political chief or a religious pontiff is not clearly stated in these allusions. Siberia was referred to by the code name of "Kansas."

One of the mysterious guru letters says: "I have read with much interest your discussion of the difference between the leader and the ruler."

Horch finally came to suspect that Roerich had used him to promote this project.

Toledo Firm Purchases Water Bonds

Issue Provides Funds To Clear Fork Job

City council last night accepted the bids of Braun, Bosworth and company, Toledo, to purchase the $1,200,000 waterworks revenue bond issue. The money provided by the bonds will be used to complete the Clear Fork waterworks project.

Bids for purchase of the securities were opened at noon yesterday and the Toledo firm's bid was approximately $3,200 lower than the only other bid, that of, Paine, Weber, Jackson and Curtis, Cleveland.

Council will meet May 19 to pass a bond ordinance and to choose Mansfield banks to act as paying agent and trustee. The bond ordinance stipulates what the borrowed money shall be used for and outlines terms of the loan.

The $1,200,000 in bond money will be used to build a low-lift pumping station, a raw water pipe line and a filtration plant to boost the city's water supply.

This brings the total indebtedness of the city waterworks department to $2,247,000. Two previous bond issues have been authorized, for $800,000 and $300,000. City officials have been assured that the present loan will give the city enough money to complete the Clear Fork project.

COUNTING—Through the long hours of Tuesday night and into the wee hours of today, election workers counted ballots. Five of them are shown around one of the long tables they used in the courthouse. ONIONS AND POLL BOOKS—

Sleepy-eyed board of elections workers greeted the dawn today ankle-deep in poll books, tabulation sheets and the scraps of a midnight snack. The same scene greeted them again at 9 a. m. when the office door was opened by Walter Underwood, deputy clerk. The poll books were still stacked high, tabulation sheets still litered the tables and over on a corner shelf—pungent reminder of the night's work—was a large bunch of green onions, reposing beside a plate of pickles and discarded cartons of buns.

NEVER AGAIN!—

From now on every envelope that goes into a wastebasket in the traffic department at the city building will be thoroughly "frisked" before discarding. That's the way Mrs. Carolyn Cox Colby, newly-married police clerk-stenographer, feels about it. While cleaning out her purse the other day she found an envelope which she thought was empty. Into the waste basket it went and finally into the furnace where it was burned. Later, much to Carolyn's dismay, she discovered the envelope contained her pay check! A distress signal went out to the auditor's office which graciously came to the rescue with a new check.

ANTICIPATION—

The next two weeks are going to be anxious ones for Marjorie Selby, young Mansfield singer, and her teacher, A. LeMoine Derr. Yesterday Marjorie returned from Philadelphia where she auditioned Monday at the Curtis Institute of Music. Derr sponsored the young high school senior, having sent in her application in February. "It's quite an honor to be selected," Derr said today. "Only music students who give great promise are accepted for the audition. Marjorie had to sing four different songs in four different languages —French, German, Italian and English." If accepted by the Institute, Marjorie will receive a scholarship for three years of training at the Institute. But she won't know for two weeks.

Relocation Funds Set

Council OK's $70,000 For Road, Equipment

Council last night appropriated $70,000 to relocate a road in the vicinity of the Clear Fork dam and to purchase electrical equipment for the new high-lift pumping station to be built between Alta and Lexington.

The service - safety director was authorized to advertise for bids to relocate the Gass road and to build a Gass road bridge. The present Gass road will be under water when the reservoir fills.

The electrical equipment needed for the pumping station includes transformer and switchboard equipment, transformers, pumps and motors. Council set up $50,000 for electrical equipment and the remainder for the road relocation.

As recommended by Sanitary Engineer B. V. BeVier, council authorized the construction of a sanitary sewer siphon on Ashland road at the Rocky Fork at a cost of $3,700. This will serve to speed the flow of sewage from the north end of the city.

The hiring of an art director for the recreation department at a salary of $5 a session was authorized. The bill made payment retroactive to Jan. 1.

Council also voted to pay three claims for damages to motor vehicles.

Edward E. Dunn, Rowland avenue, was awarded $17.18 for damages to his car after it struck an unguarded manhole on North Foster street Feb. 13.

James Bly, 628 Johns avenue, was given $36.79 for damages sustained when his car and a police cruiser collided Feb. 5.

A sum of $16.99 was awarded to Jay F. Williams, 263 Remy avenue, for damages resulting when he drove his car into a hole in Glessner avenue Feb. 13.

Council also appropriated $450 to pay for the construction of a retaining wall along East Temple court at the north boundary of the Automotive Supply company property which serves as a lateral support for the street pavement.

Push For Broadcasting Permits

Newspapers Assail FCC Radio Findings

Contending that the Federal Communications commission had failed to make findings properly based on evidence before it and that the FCC had usurped authority not delegated to it The Mansfield Journal company and the Lorain Journal company yesterday called upon the commission to reverse its earlier findings and grant radio broadcasting licenses to the two papers.

The two newspapers' request came at the conclusion of oral arguments presented before the commission yesterday by attorneys for the two newspapers, which had been refused broadcasting permits by the FCC earlier this year.

In the hearing Atty. George Sutton and Atty. William Thomson, Washington legal representatives for the newspapers, told commissioners that the FCC's action attempting to determine what is and what is not news is a violation of the newspapers' right of free press.

He also asserted that the commission usurped its authority in seeking to deal with that question and questions concerning the business policies of the Mansfield paper.

CITES EVIDENCE

The newspapers' representatives argued that the commission had failed to take into account the weight of testimony of witnesses at application hearings in which civic accomplishments of the newspapers were set forth.

The attorneys stressed that the record of the newspapers' operation shows that they never have been dominated by any group, faction or organization, but have been operated in the public interest of the communities which they serve.

In the case of Mansfield, Atty. Sutton cited the News-Journal's part in the promotion and establishment of an airport, support of bond issues for new schools and a sanatorium, the newspaper's successful fights for lower utility rates, active campaigns for law enforcement, support of war bond drives, aid to Red Cross and Community Fund drives and participation in other civic undertakings.

APPEAL TO COURT

The arguments presented by the newspapers asserted that the commission had "gone out of its way" to find evidence "derogatory" to the papers and had ignored the weight of evidence in favor of the newspapers receiving radio licenses.

The two papers have applied to the U. S. court of appeals of the District of Columbia for review of the FCC's action. The FCC has filed a motion with the court, seeking to have the appeal dismissed. No date for court hearing has been set.

Union Rural Levy Wins

A sweeping majority in favor of a one-mill levy to repair Union Rural high school was cast by residents of Weller, Franklin and Bloominggrove townships, final tabulations showed today.

The one-year levy, expected to produce about $2,900 for needed repairs, was approved 220 to 82.

Weller township gave the levy 120 votes to 44 against, Franklin 75 to 30 and Bloominggrove 25 to 8.

H. S. Pittenger, clerk of Union school board, said a promise of between $2,300 and $2,800 in federal aid had been given if the levy was approved. He estimated cost of repairs at $6,000, including a new roof at the school, new water pump, storage tank, vacuum pump and new septic tang and pipeline.

Sharon township voters approved, 42 to 8, annexation of two acres to the city of Shelby. Only those residents of the township outside of Shelby affected by the annexation were eligible to vote.

Around O. S. U.'s Oval

By LARRY MURPHY, N-J Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS—Aside from the usual May avalanche of fraternity, sorority and other social gatherings which traditionally clutter up the students' calendar, Mansfielders at State are in the throes of planning a picnic to celebrate the first anniversary of the Mansfield club.

Although committees will not be appointed until Thursday night's meeting, tentative plans are to be presented at the meeting by Club President Bob Mercer, Joe Zara, George Stuhldreher and Jim Sheads.

While the actual birth date of the club is May 30, the anniversary celebration will be Sunday, May 16.

At lunch yesterday with Mayor Vaughn in the Elks club the mayor expressed a great deal of interest in club events and recalled that he had just a "heck of a good time" at its founding, playing ball with the students and judging a pie-eating contest.

Business has prevented his attending subsequent social gatherings held by the club, but the group has underlined his invitation to the anniversary picnic.

Mansfielders at Ohio State launched the current quarter recently with a pleasant evening of bridge, dancing, and chitchat at the summer cabin of a prominent Columbus architect.

CAMPUS CHATTER: Marjorie Ziegler cutting a real groovey rug with some of the younger Mansfield clubbers at the recent "Spring Soiree." . . . Fred Pfeiffer bustling about the Journalism building as if his life depended upon getting to class on time . . . Bill Edwards making with the wisecracks like mad at the same event . . . Friends inquiring about Genevieve Buzenski the night of the party and also wondering where Betty Edwards has been keeping herself on campus.

CLASS TO MEET

The J. D. Wilcox Bible class will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Prospect park pavilion.

Hamilton Lady Lost 25 Lbs. Doctor Advised Rennel

Mrs Gordon I. Korb, 745 Coralie Ave., Hamilton, Ohio writes "I am 54 years old and with the advice of my Doctor I have been taking Rennel Concentrate To date I have lost 25 lbs. without doing any dicting. Rennel keeps me from bloating and I would recommend it to any one who is obese and unsightly."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and obtain genuine Rennel.

Conflicting astral configurations may contribute to the uncertain, static and obstructed conditions of this day, in which not only crystallized and congested situations, but an element of the secret treacherous and pernicious, combine to discourage and disappoint. With full knowledge of such subtle and blocked situations a definite, concrete and determined effort may at long last break down all impediments and frustrating circumstances. Diligence, sagacious and well-concentrated marshalling of all forces and influence may succeed and establish firm and enduring plans and worthwhile achievement.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is are encouraged to attack with diligence, keen insight and analysis, with sound, cleverly organized and shrewdly executed plans and policies, in order to frustrate vicious, underhand and pernicious effort of inimical forces, bent upon enhancing disruptive and crystallized natural conditions. Due sense of obligation, together with inside information, efficient "know how" in handling baffling circumstances and treachery, may beget excellent power establish worthwhile and enduring accomplishment. Enmity, jealousy, hidden factors as well as health demand calm consideration.

Elderly Ashland Woman Killed By Freight Train

ASHLAND—Ashland county's second fatality in less than 24 hours occurred Tuesday at 4:05 p. m. when Mrs. Dora E. Austin, 76-year-old employe of Samaritan hospital, was killed by a west-bound Erie railroad freight train at the Orange street crossing.

Her death followed by only 22 hours that of Monroe F. Rubin, 64, Cleveland contractor, whose car crashed into a tree at a sharp turn on Route 60 south of Ashland.

Mrs. Austin, a cook at the hospital, was going north across the tracks when she was struck by the front of the west-bound freight. The impact hurled her body 85 feet onto a switch track. She was pronounced dead by Dr A D. Lewis, Ashland county coroner.

TRIED TO BEAT TRAIN

According to Mrs. Ida Paxton, 209 Pleasant street, a witness, the aged woman apparently tried to beat the approaching freight and was running when struck Mrs. Paxton, standing at the crossing waiting for the train to pass, said she was unable to assist the elderly woman because of the rapid approach of the train.

The freight's engineer, George Griffith of Marion, told investigating police officers that he saw the woman and blew the whistle and rang the bell but said she continued to run in spite of his warnings. The train was moving about 30-miles an hour at the time.

Mrs. Austin's death followed by less than two weeks the death of a daughter, Mrs. Forrest Hazlett, 57, of Ashland.

A native of Lake Fork in southern Ashland county, Mrs. Austin was a resident of Ashland most of her life. She was a member of the Methodist church here. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Carl Brown of Ashland; two sisters, Mrs. John Harris and Mrs. Katherine Warrick, and one brother, Francis Simmers, all of Ashland; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 3 p. m. (DST) in the Heyl funeral home. Rev. Harry Carney, pastor of the Nankin Federated church will officiate. Burial will be in Ashland cemetery.

Taking Ore's Wealth Is Big Job

Pure Metal Rarely Seen In Gold Mine

By HAL BOYLE

LEAD, S D —(AP)—A gold miner is about as likely to see an elephant underground as he is gold.

And if he did see it he probably wouldn't recognize it This is one of the oddities of digging out the yellow metal that gives the boys at Fort Knox something to guard and provides the nation's dentists something to fill a tooth with besides an ache

"It is very rare to find free specks of gold," said Harlan Walker, assistant general manager of the Homestake mine, largest in the Americas.

"Miners can work years here and never see any."

Many miners can't even determine ore-bearing rock from waste or "country rock." Sites worth working are outlined by skilled mining engineers.

Gold mining is an intricate industry comparable in many ways to an automobile factory. It takes many skills to glean from one ton of ore its final product—barely enough gold to make a man's wedding ring And it may cost $200,000 or more to blast through country rock to reach an ore body worth working

Practically everything taken out of the mine is put back in with one noteworthy exception—the gold. After the ore has been crushed and passed through meshes of a screen finer than the sifting cloth used in flour mills, the waste sand is pumped back into the mine as "fill" to prevent wall collapses.

MINERS HARDY

Gold miners are a hardy, snuff-chewing crew who hold a high disdain for coal mines They work a seven-hour day, six-day week and the top workers earn $12 to $15 a day. They live a mile above sea level here and work a mile from their homes—straight down

Their chief task is drilling seven-foot holes in the tunnel face and stuffing them with dynamite which they set off at the end of their shift. Laborers then do the mucking—loading the blasted ore with power shovels.

Some idea of the size of operations in this massive mine that has produced $460,000,000 in 70 years

It produces 1,400,000 tons of ore in a normal year.

It pumps out 500 gallons of water a minute and pumps in 225,000 cubic feet of fresh air

It has 37 levels, 120 miles of tunnels

It burns 773 miles of fuse a year to set off 3,000,000 sticks of dynamite — some 100,000 pounds a month.

It uses 1,000,000 feet of timber a month.

Its giant main hoists can haul up nine-ton loads of ore at three times the speed of the fastest passenger elevators in New York skyscrapers.

At present the gold mining industry in the United States is in a slump. The Homestake mine is operating at only about 60 per cent capacity.

"Before the war the United States produced 14 per cent of the worlds gold each year" Walker said. 'Now it produces only about 5 percent

"The reasons? The present ceiling price on gold, shortage of labor higher costs and high taxes'

It takes 20 days and incredible labor to harvest from 35 tons of undug ore in the mine the one pound or less of gold bullion that emerges from the refinery.

Hi-Y Clubs Plan Programs For May

The Hi-Y clubs met at the YMCA Monday night and announced coming events for May

The Junior Hi-Y club with Warren Elverson and Richard DiSanza as committeemen will meet May 15 for a club sponsored hay-ride

The Sophomore Hi-Y club will hold its annual Mother and Son dinner May 11 at Johns park David Harpley, program chairman, and Charles Johns dinner committee chairman, will officiate The dinner will be served by the mothers of Scout Troop 18.

The number of Americans per dentist in the United States declined from 2,560 in 1900 to 1,728 in 1930, but increased to 1,865 in 1940.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD NEWSPAPER

Telegraph News --

What will happen tomorrow?

Who knows? These are troubled times, when any day might bring news of world-shaking importance.

To predict what will happen would be a matter of conjecture. But tomorrow, readers of The News-Journal will know what did happen, and what is happening, everywhere.

Through thousands of words pouring into its newsroom every day, The News-Journal brings the nation and the world to the doorstep of its readers.

Starting at 4 a.m. every day and continuing until after press time, stories and reports from all sections of our state and nation, and from all parts of the world, stream in endlessly through the magic of the teletype.

In the United States there are three great news-gathering agencies. One of these, the Associated Press, is a co-operative organization of newspapers, of which The News-Journal is a member. From bureaus in all centers of government and population in this country and throughout the world, and from the newsrooms of EVERY MEMBER PAPER, Associated Press channels news reports to its members

In a similar manner the far-flung national and world organizations of the United Press and International News Service flash their comprehensive reports quickly, accurately and freely over the news wires

All newspapers except those which are entirely local in their scope use one of these news agencies. Some make use of two of the services. A few papers throughout the United States use all three of the agencies. Included among these is The News-Journal.

When Congress acts, when the President speaks, when disaster strikes or there is a victory for peace or for humanity, whether in America or half way around the globe, the stories click into The News-Journal wire room and go into the daily diet of information that constitutes the national and international service available to readers in this newspaper

In the wire room of The News-Journal there is a battery of seven teletypes, intricate machines which automatically convert electrical telegraph impulses into typewritten words. Each day these machines type thousands of words, bringing to Mansfield the day's crop of news stories.

No average person would have the time to read them all. But News-Journal readers have the assurance that they will find in their paper the cream of the news crop.

To supplement the words and reports, The News-Journal uses additional facilities of the Associated Press, and of Central Press Association to provide pictures and news features on science, entertainment, government, politics, war—on all the doings of mankind.

Telegraph news is another reason why . . .

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

THE FOOTBALL coaching post at Massillon's Washington high school is still wide open. . . . The Massillon board of education has interviewed many candidates but has reached no decision. . . . The board meets again tonight and may do something then. . . . However, the No. 1 business on tonight's calendar is discussion of a broader physical education program for the Tiger school. . . . Chuck Mather, Hamilton, and Rocky Snyder, Portsmouth, were interviewed Sunday about the Massillon post. . . . Homer Eddington, Chillicothe, is apparently the only other mentor under consideration. . . . Mather is getting more money at Hamilton than the $4,700 Massillon pays. . . . Paul Schofer, Hamilton's head basketball and assistant football mentor, and Carl "Ducky" Schroeder, Springfield director of athletics and former Wittenberg coach, will probably be in at Massillon if Mather gets the job. . . . Schroeder was one of the first to apply for the Massillon grid job. . . . Since he has said he would be happy to serve as an assistant to Mather.

GAYNELL TINSLEY, All-America end at Louisiana State and new Tiger football coach, entered LSU on a basketball scholarship but never played a minute on the cage team. . . . The New York Yankees spent $13,000 on baseballs last season. . . . Michigan footballers are prominent on the Wolverine baseball team which is leading the Western conference. . . . Bob Chappuis is the catcher, Jack Weisenburger and Dom Tomasi play the infield and Chalmers "Bump" Elliott is one of the outfielders. . . . Tomasi is captain-elect of the Michigan grid team.

FISHING enthusiasts sure go all out in buying equipment. . . . 18,000,000 fishermen in United States and Canada will spend more than 100 million for tackle this year. . . . Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame's great athlete, made 14 magazine covers in his last two grid seasons. . . . Ted Williams has never hit under .300 as a major leaguer. . . . However, in both his seasons in the Pacific Coast league the "Splendid Splinter" hit under the select mark. . . . Eddie Stanky of the Braves played 10 years of minor league ball before he hit the majors.

Indians Make Scouting Deal

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians announced today arrangements had been completed with Abe Saperstein whereby his organization would provide scouting facilities for promising Negro ball players.

Saperstein, promoter of the Herlem Globe Trotters professional basketball team, has a far-flung organization that scouts for Negro athletes in the Philippines, Cuba and Mexico.

"We know there are many promising Negro ball players of the caliber of Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers and our own Larry Doby," Tribe President Bill Veeck said, "and we feel sure that by working through Mr. Saperstein's organization we can obtain our share of such talent."

Sandusky's Beaten By 67-51 Tally

Taking a preponderance of second places, the well-balanced Mansfield Senior high school track and field squad defeated the Sandusky Blue Streaks, 67 to 51, yesterday afternoon on rain-swept Stadium field.

The Tygers of Coach Harry Mehock could gain only six firsts in the 14 events but managed to take 11 second places. It was the fourth straight dual meet victory for Senior high and the first loss in four meets for the invaders.

NIMMONS TOPS

Ernie Nimmons, Bill Smith and Jack Williams, of Sandusky, and Burt Lindsay, Mansfield, all won at least two events. This lad Nimmons was by far the outstanding performer as he grabbed firsts in both sprints, broad jump and anchored the winning 880-yard relay combine.

Nimmons thus won individual point honors with 16¼ while A. C. Jenkins, Tyger sophomore, came in with 11 tallies. Jenkins had a first in the 220-yard low hurdles and seconds in the high sticks and discus throw.

Marty Bricker, Mansfield's No. 1 hurdler, took the highs in 15 seconds but hit a hurdle in the lows and quit. His high hurdle time was just one-tenth second over the existing Tyger record set in 1945 by Ivan Wallington.

BEST PERFORMANCES

For the most part times and distances suffered because of the bad weather. Only Bricker's high stick time and the shot and discus tosses of Lindsay were outstanding.

Other Mansfield first places were turned in by Soph Don Cline in the pole vault and the mile relay quartet of Ken Cline, Floyd Guegold, Chuck Eagleston and Willie Fowler.

Lindsay in the shot put and the mile relayists have not been beaten this year in dual meet competition.

Senior high's sprint ace, Tommy Tucker, has had a little leg trouble and wound up with three second places.

The Tygers will compete in the Canton McKinley relays Saturday.

The summaries:

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Bricker (M); 2, Jenkins (M); 3, Kraus (S). Time—:15 seconds.

100-yard dash—Won by Nimmons (S); 2, Tucker (M); 3, Michaels (S). Time—10.5 seconds.

Mile run—Won by Williams (S); 2, Poorman (M); 3, Ryan (M). Time—4:52.9.

880-yard relay — Won by Sandusky (Kreimes, Clemons, Michaels and Nimmons). Time—1:35.5.

Shot put—Won by Lindsay (M); 47 feet, 4 inches; 2, Snyder (M) 42; 3, Weaver (M), 40-3.

440-yard dash—Won by Smith (S); 2, Fowler (M); 3, Guegold (M). Time—56.4 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Jenkins (M); 2, Ulerich (S); 3, Hoelzer (S). Time 28.1 seconds.

High jump—Won by Williams (S); 2, (tie), Fowler (M) and Ferguson (M). Height—5 feet, 8 inches.

880-yard run—Won by Lindsay (M). 133 feet, 9 inches; 2, Jenkins (M), 121-10, 3, Morrow (S), 117-11.

Tygers Get Test For Role In District Baseball Meet

By CHARLEY STINE

A test of just how Mansfield may expect to fare in next week's district baseball tournament will be afforded tomorrow when the Tygers entertain Ashland at Blue Goose diamond at 4 p. m.

Senior high defeated Ashland 3-1 in the opening game of the season, but the A's, with their ace pitcher, Dick Messner, are rated the team to beat in the Class A district joust. Mansfield will meet then in the first game of the tourney a week from today.

Senior high has won the district championship every year since the advent of baseball here three years ago.

FINE TOSSING

Tabulation of the team batting and pitching averages reveal just why the Tygers are undefeated. Though the batting is pitifully weak, Lou Gregorio and Shelly Swank have done some mighty fine tossing from the pitching rubber.

Whereas most high school hurlers have trouble getting the ball over the plate, Swank had not walked a man in 11 innings, and Gregorio has walked but five in 27 frames. On the other hand Gregorio has struck out 36 and Swank 19. Only eight runs have been scored off their combined talents.

Catcher Joe Miller is the only Bengal regular hitting over the .300 mark. Miller leads the club with .308 while Swank is second with .235. The latter lad has the only Tyger home run.

'48 Major League Pennant Races Still Very Close; American's Western Teams Treated Shabbily In East

By LOU GARAVENTE

NEW YORK—(INS)—The major league standings—proclaim today that the pre-season "dope" was right—the 1948 pennant races are going to be very close.

Of course, the season is only two weeks old but there is no disputing the fact that in both the American and National leagues the difference between first and eighth places is about three-and-a-half games.

In the American league, the Cleveland Indians are on top. The Chicago White Sox are in last place, three-and-half games off the pace. The Pittsburgh Pirates hold the top slot in the National league. The Chicago Cubs are in last, the same distance away as the White Sox.

No team has lost consistenly without regaining lost ground quickly. Conversely, no team has won consistently without suddenly fading.

The Cleveland Indians are a case in point. The Indians took the play away from the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox by rocketing to six straight victories before the Detroit Tigers dumped them. Since the Tiger loss the Indians have yet to win.

The Philadelphia Athletics had to go ten innings yesterday, but in the added frame Shortstop Eddie Joost, hammered a two-run homer into the left field seats to dump Cleveland, 8 to 6.

Western teams were treated shabbily in the eastern ball parks with the Red Sox trimming the Tigers, 6 to 3, with a four-run sixth, and the Yankees knocking off the St. Louis Browns behind the four-hit twirling of Frank Shea. Joe DiMaggio got a hit to stretch his streak to ten straight games.

The scheduled night game between the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators was called off at the end of five innings with the score tied at 3 to 3.

In the National league, there was only one night game played. The St. Louis Cardinals edged a half-game nearer the Pirates and New York Giants by coming from behind to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 4.

Stan Musial hit his third home run in the sixth inning and Enos Slaughter came out of his hitting slump to notch what proved to be the winning run, a towering home run drive in the eighth inning.

The Boston Braves-Pittsburgh Pirates night game was rained out at the end of three innings with the Pirates leading 3 to 0. The Philadelphia Phillies-Chicago Cubs' afternoon contest was postponed because of rain.

The New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds were not scheduled.

Leahy Heads Clinic Staff At Ohio State

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio State University offers its 17th annual football clinic for high school coaches this week-end, with Notre Dame's Frank Leahy as the outstanding member of the "faculty."

The Ohio high school football coaches association will name officers for 1948-49 at the Friday-Saturday session.

Nominees for president are Gil Smith of Van Wert and Bob Morgan of Cincinnati Western Hills. Vice presidential nominees are Ralph Ness of Lakewood and T. C. Davies of Ironton. Carl F. (Ducky) Schroeder of Springfield is unopposed for secretary-treasurer.

Members of the nominating committee were Glenn Ellison of Middletown, Ken Powers of Reading, Bus Harding of Toledo Libbey, Howard Brinker of Steubenville, Homer Edington of Chillicothe, and Harold Roettger of Lockland, the retiring president.

Coach Leahy, explaining the "T" formation offense, will open the clinic Friday morning.

WILL TAKE OVER

Head Coach Wesley Fesler and his Ohio State staff will take over Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. Fesler will outline Buckeye offensive plans, and head line coach Lyal Clark will talk on defensive line play.

E. R. Godfrey, assistant line coach, will discuss linebacking, and Backfield Coach C. C. Widdoes the fine points of pass defense.

The visiting coaches will be guests at a Friday night banquet, at which George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, will speak.

The clinic will wind up Saturday with the annual spring game at 3 p. m., following a track meet between Ohio State and Wisconsin at 1:30.

Coach Paul E. Brown of the All-America conference champion Cleveland Browns, said at least one member of his staff would attend the Ohio State clinic, and that he and his entire corps would sit in on the spring game.

Sande Barred From Tracks For 60 Days

NEW YORK—(UP)—Earl Sande today was barred from New York race tracks for 60 days for the alleged doping of one of his horses.

The action by the Metropolitan Jockey club came on the heels of the famed ex-jockey's arrest Monday on a federal charge of possessing narcotics.

Sande's foreman, Eugene Donaldson, and one of his grooms, Francis Booth, received 30-day suspensions. Sande had admitted he ordered the foreman to give the horse a shot of "kola" but only for a workout.

Charging that Sande's horse, Big Stage, showed traces of a morphine drug in a routine saliva test at Jamaica April 21, the Metropolitan Jockey club stewards ordered that Sande not be permitted on the grounds during the suspension — except to sell his horses, if he found that he must do so.

The stewards also ordered that Sande's $2,600 purse for the April 21 race, which Big Stage won, be forfeited.

Sande now is awaiting federal grand jury action on the narcotics charge.

Legion Junior Team to Hold Initial Drill

Mansfield's American Legion junior baseball team will practice for the first time tomorrow at 5 p. m. on the Liberty park diamond.

Dewey Durant will manage the team again this year and he has issued a call for all youngsters who had not reached their 17th birthday before Jan. 1, 1948. Boys on the Senior high varsity and reserve squads will not be eligible for Legion play until their season ends.

OPEN WITH GALION

The Mansfield aggregation will open its campaign Sunday, June 6, against Galion at Liberty park.

Durant's team was runner up to Elyria in the district five eliminations last year after having copped five straight district championships. The district meet will be staged in Bellevue in mid-July.

The schedule of league games has not been drawn up as yet.

Among the teams which will compete in the district five are: Galion, Crestline, Shelby, Attica, Mansfield, Elyria, Bellevue, Loudonville, Wadsworth, Sandusky, Willard, Norwalk, Lorain and Medina.

Practice Data

Five softball teams have announced practice sessions for this evening on city diamonds. They are: Ohio Sports Center, Liberty Park; Amvets, John Todd; Farm Tools, Johns; Penn Auto, North Lake; and Prospect park on their own diamond.

Brown Boss Sees Some Sunshine

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—Everything was looking down today for genial Zack Taylor, manager of the St. Louis Browns, yet the man with one of the worst jobs in baseball could see sunshine at the bottom of the toboggan.

Attribute it, if you will, to the fact that the fellow from Yulee, Fla., once caught for the Brooklyn Dodgers. That, in itself, must harden a man forever to the vicissitudes of life.

Certainly you can't question the man's courage. Last year the Browns finished eighth and last in the American league. They were lucky there weren't more clubs to finish behind. Then they sold most of their stars, including Shortstop Vern Stephens and Pitcher Jack Kramer, two of their few pros. Even after that Zach agreed to take charge.

And at the moment the miracle man from the Mississippi mudflats has them up in the first division.

Nobody knows better than Zack that it can't last.

You just don't take a bunch of youngsters named Joe and crowd such clubs as Detroit and Boston out of the upper stories. The shakedown cruise ends any minute.

Zach's aim is not to get too far down in the bottom half.

"One guy said I wouldn't win 20 games this year," Zach grinned. "Well, I've got five of 'em."

There's no question that there are a lot of "strangers" out there wearing the uniforms of the Browns.

"You know, when we reported for spring training at San Bernardino, Calif., there were 19 guys I didn't know at all," Zack laughed. "We had quite a time, I'll tell you. But they've got spirit and hustle. That's what I want."

Piles Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.
Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.
